Council, Fire Chief Urge Residents to Conserve Water

KATHLEEN D. BAILEY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry Town Council and Fire Chief Darren O'Brien have issued a plea to residents to be careful about water use in light of a continuing drought.

Chairman John Farrell addressed the issue at Monday night's Town Council meeting, with input from O'Brien and Town Manager Kevin Smith.

After a moment of silence for those who perished in the Sept. 11, 2001 terror attacks, Farrell said that 80 percent of Londonderry homes are on well water. Homes in the north part of town receive water from Manchester Water Works and homes in the south, from Pen-nichuck.

Council Hears 2016 is 'Banner Year' for Town Finances

KATHLEEN D. BAILEY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Town of Londonderry is on schedule to return an estimated $2 million to the Unassigned Fund Balance.

Town Manager Kevin Smith gave an update on the 2016 budget at Monday night's Town Council meeting.

"Once again it has been a banner year," Smith said.

Expenses are down, Smith told the Council and television audience.

The town's original working budget was $87,067,354. Expenditures as of June 30 were $85,678,253.

Smith said Chief Darren O'Brien's Fire Department led the way in careful budgeting. Fire's original budget number was $7,010,768, while the department only expended $6,778,288, leaving a surplus of approximately $232,000.

"I commend the Chief for prudent budgeting," Smith said, adding that such was not always the case with the Fire budget.

"Three years ago there was a lot of overtime," he said, "and every other department had to make up for Fire."

Police also came in under, with an original budget of $8,286,524 and expenditures of $8,119,211, for an ending surplus of $167,313.

The Leach Library ended with a surplus of $13,611; Recreation had $2,938; Cable, $11,794; and Social Services and Welfare $9,400 and $59,215 respectively.

Revenues are also on the rise, with motor vehicle permits alone up $1.1 million over what was estimated, Smith said. "That is pretty significant," he said.

FY 15 was also a good year, and after two good

Londonderry Seeks Candidates for Assistant Town Manager Post

KATHLEEN D. BAILEY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Londonderry is looking to hire an Assistant Town Manager and Director of Personnel.

Town Manager Kevin Smith confirmed this week that the town is advertising the position.

"This was a position a few years ago," he said in a phone interview. "It was a title held by the person who was also the Finance Director." That person was Susan Hickey.

Whether the revived position is full or part time depends on the candidates and their experience, Smith said, adding, "It is fluid."

The successful candidate will back up Smith in his work of managing the town, "in administrative functions and daily operation," he said. In addition, the new staff member will direct the Human Resources department.

Smith said Londonderry currently has a Human Resources Manager, who upon the hiring of the new person will concentrate on the benefits end of personnel.

"The Council is looking at reorganizing the department structure," Smith said. "There will be two positions, a Benefits Administrator and a Director of Personnel."

The town is looking to pay a salary in the range of $75,000 to $90,000, according to Smith.

The money is not in the FY 17 budget but will be fully budgeted in FY 2018, he said.

"In order to hire someone for the rest of this year, we will move things around a little in the current budget," Smith said.

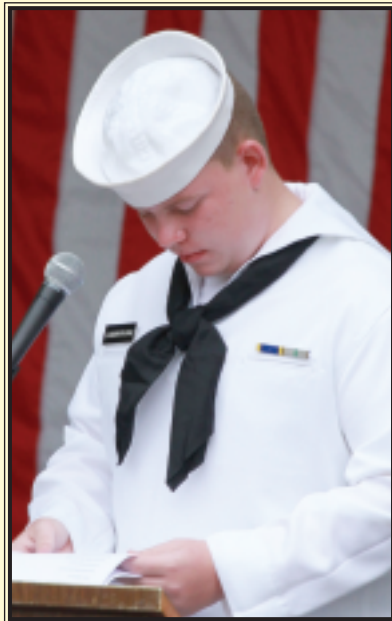

After the resumes are in, he and the Town Council will review them, Smith said. An appointee will

Londonderry Remembers The Fallen During 9/11 Service

On Sunday, Sept. 11, American Legion Post 27 hosted its annual memorial ceremony on the Town Common to honor those who died in the terror attacks 15 years ago. The list of names of those who died was read starting at 8:46 a.m., the time the first airplane struck the World Trade Center. The readers included Governor Maggie Hassan, Londonderry Town Councilors, State Representatives, Londonderry High School students, local veterans and current servicemen. Pictured from left and clockwise, a steel girder from the World Trade Center as well as rubble from the Pentagon were displayed; Seaman Wyatt Lamontagne reads from the list of names, Gov. Hassan looks on after her reading and opening remarks, South Elementary School Assistant Principal Chelsea Hunnewell takes a turn reading, and local firefighters observe the ceremony.

Council Approves Updated Pay Policy for Non-Union Employees

KATHLEEN D. BAILEY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry Town Council has approved an updated compensation policy for all non-represented personnel.

Town Manager Kevin Smith presented the updated agreement in the Sept. 12 Town Council meeting.

"This is the final revised version. It has been codified," Smith told the Council.

Smith told the Council that if it approves, all the items in the contract will be effective that night except for Article 10, dealing with performance pay plans. "Half of the non-represented employees fall under the current performance pay plan," Smith said. "In order to make it fair to all, we would like that to go into effect Jan. 1, 2017."

The performance pay plan, Article 10, provides for a merit increase of up to 2.5 percent annually based on annual evaluations, which are based on the date of an employee's appointment to his or her current grade within the existing job position by the immediate supervisor. Each employee is required to provide his or her immediate supervisor with a written self-evaluation not less than 60 days prior to the annual anniversary of appointment to the current grade within the position. The immediate supervisor will meet with the employee within 30 days to review the evaluation and determine the amount of the merit increase.

Interim evaluations may be conducted during any part of the evaluation year if deemed necessary, and all such cases must be documented, including a written record of any perceived performance deficiency, a performance plan and timetable.

Smith said the main difference between this agreement and the prior one is the employee health plan. The contracted employees are moving toward Health Savings Accounts, or HSAs, at a savings to both the employees and the town, Smith said.

While the employees may still opt for a traditional health plan, the town is "heavily incentivized" toward helping them switch. While the town is expected to contribute more to the HSAs in the long run, it is still expected to cost less.

A special meeting was held Sept. 13 in conjunction with the New Hampshire Primary to allow voters to weigh in on two contracts, one for AFC-SME (American Federation of County, State and Municipal Employees) Local 93, town administrative personnel and one for AFCSME Local 1802. The town insures through Health Trust and the company was offering a one-time deal, so the special meeting was held rather than wait till March.

The Council voted 3-0 to approve the compensation agreement.

In other business Monday night, the Council approved Jocelyn Muller's appointment to the Solid Waste Committee.

Police Investigate Note Suggesting Bomb at LHS

PENNY WILLIAMS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Londonderry Police responded to a note found on one of the urinals in the boys' bathroom at Londonderry High School. According to the Londonderry Police log, the department received a call regarding a bomb threat on Wednesday, Sept. 7 at just before 5 p.m.

The log described the incident as "a bomb scare action" at Londonderry High School. Officers were immediately dispatched to the high school, where they conducted an investigation.

Londonderry Police Detective Chris Olson explained that the threat was based on a note written on the urinal that stated, "im gonna bomb LHS."

"There were no devices found and the school was not placed into lockdown due to the discovery coming after school hours," Olson said. "We have not yet identified a suspect, and the case has been passed on to the our School Resource Officer for follow up."

Olson said a camera near the bathroom in question will be the focal point of the investigation.

Never Forget

Last Sunday was the 15th anniversary of Sept. 11, 2001, a day when nearly 3,000 persons lost their lives in senseless acts of terrorism.

The generation that remembers what they were doing when they heard of the attack on Pearl Harbor is leaving us. Those of us who remember where we were when we heard that President Kennedy had been shot are getting on in years. But most Americans easily recall what they were doing on that ordinary day when almost everything we took for granted was lost.

Yet Sept. 11 is more than the date of a horrific series of events, or a single day to remember. It is the landmark when almost everything we considered normal became past tense. And it's the date when we ever so briefly put aside our political and philosophical differences and came together as a nation.

But as you read these words, that momentary solidarity and focus on security have come apart once again.

Unity was the operative word after Sept. 11, 2001. Political party, religion, personality, skin color – none of that mattered, as strangers become neighbors and offered help and comfort in the midst of the questions that no one can still answer – why, how come, how is this possible.

No firefighter or police officer asked whether the workers on the top floors of the Twin Towers were Republicans or Democrats. None of that mattered. Human beings rushed into the unknown to help out other human beings. They were doing their jobs. And they were emblematic of the humanity we all share – and the opposite of the lack of humanity exhibited by the terrorists.

Sadly, 15 years later, we are divided yet again, something made dramatically obvious in this current election season, with candidates' content and clarity lost to emotion and divisiveness. "I'm right, you're very wrong" is the message, and substance is ignored.

How did we lose the grand sense of unity that came out of the national response to the attacks? Politicians and wannabes have resumed business as usual, going after each other to see who comes out on top, rather than offering realistic solutions to the problems we face today.

We must return to the idea that unity is not a sign of weakness. Patriotism comes in many forms. We show our love for our country in myriad ways. We understood that after Sept. 11. We must remember that not just on Sept. 11, but every day.

A Break for Top 1 Percent

To the editor:

There are some important issues that we need to focus on before voting in November. The differences in tax plans between the two major candidates is enormous. I believe that income inequality is a major problem in our country today. Not only is it unfair, but it is a drag on our economy.

Let's just look at one factor in the two plans. Mr. Trump calls for the elimination of the estate tax or the "death tax." So what's the big deal? Well, it would drastically increase the concentration of wealth in the top 1 percent of Americans.

As more and more of that wealth is in the hands of heirs, it means that more and more of the money going into political campaigns and lobbying will be from those who are most out of touch with real America. That is those who don't have or need a job but have lots of opinions on how to fix America.

A New York Times analysis shows that "When a person dies, the first $5.45 million of the estate is exempt from taxation, $10.9 million for a married couple. Assets above those levels are generally taxed at 40 percent before being passed on to heirs. The Trump proposal would eliminate this tax altogether. The Clinton plan would increase it by lowering the exemption to $3.5 million for an individual and $7 million for a married couple.

"More families would have to pay, and very wealthy families would pay taxes on a higher portion of their assets. She would also increase the tax rate on affected estates to 45 percent," the article states. She would use the additional money to address the student loan crisis, lower middle class income taxes, and help pay for child care expenses.

I think the Clinton proposal is a good step toward remedying the severe tilt of wealth to the super rich. For example, the six Walmart heirs currently have more wealth than the bottom 40 percent of Americans, or approximately 120 million people. Do you think they have ever waited in line to be scanned by TSA at an airport, struggled to pay a student loan, or worried about losing a job? Would their having an additional 40 percent improve our economy? I don't think so.

Finally, Mr. Trump's tax plan would increase the after-tax income of the richest by 5.3 percent while lowering the taxes on lower and middle income people by .2 to .5 percent. Let's put it this way, without doing anything else, he would get richer and would have $4.4 billion more to leave his kids.

Response to Letter

To the editor:

In response to Dangerous Donald Trump:
I watch news from all of the news outlets, even if I have to hold my nose while doing so. I stream candidates' speeches while I work in my office so I can make my own informed decisions.

It's amazing how the actual words from the speech differ from the media's selected sound bites. I strongly recommend before anyone votes, they do the same. Our decision on who to vote for should contain original thought not influenced by the media outlets. Parroting news outlets' talking points is not original thought.

Secondly, I think voters should be honest and direct when voting for a candidate. If you want Hillary to win, vote for Hillary, not Hillary via a vote for Gary Johnson to take a possible vote away from Trump using a "do the deed without getting your hands dirty" voting style, and if you really want to vote for a fringe candidate to "make a point," seriously? What is this point and is anyone listening?

Londonderry's First 'Little Free Library' Available

PENNY WILLIAMS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Evan Labell family has opened the first Londonderry Little Free Library.

The Little Free Library movement is a national movement started in 2009 by Todd Bol of Hudson, Wis., who built a model of a one-room schoolhouse as a tribute to his mother, a teacher who loved to read. He filled it with books and set it up in his front yard and invited friends and neighbors to enjoy it.

He constructed and gave away several more and eventually joined forces with Rick Brooks of the University of Wisconsin-Madison and started a national program.

The original library

models were built with recycled materials and each was unique, but all shared the theme of exchanging good books and bringing people together. The mission is to promote literacy and the love of reading by building free book exchanges worldwide.

"Londonderry's first Little Free Library is located at the corner of Buckthorn and Loan Streets," Labell said. "We have joined the movement to share books, bring people together and create communities of readers. The Little Free Library is in front of our home and is maintained by me and my family. We are a homeschooling family and all love reading, so when we found out about the program it was a natural fit for us to share that passion and a wonderful way to promote literacy.

"We are excited not only to host the first Little Free Library in Londonderry and share our favorite books but to afford others the opportunity to share some favorites with their neighbors," he added. "It is our hope that this Little Free Library will bring an enhanced sense of community while further promoting reading and literacy at the local level."

His wife, Rebekah Labell, added, "What is wonderful is that the inventory is always changing. Some people take books, some people leave books, others exchange them - it's fun to see how our friends and neighbors are into it, especially now that it's back to school time."

Londonderry Leach Library Director Barbara Ostertag-Holtkamp expressed pleasure that the town now has a Little Free Library. "The Little Free Libraries are a great idea," she said. "However, it all depends on the community and the particular community needs and what people are looking for, but they do provide a great service for those interested in using them."

The Little Free Library nonprofit organization has been honored by the Library of Congress, the National Book Foundation, and the American Library Association. To learn more, visit littlefreelibrary.org.

there is no basis for this fear mongering.

Mr. Trump is the first and only candidate with a platform to put America first. He is the also the first candidate to self-fund his campaign, he does not take donations from Wall Street, and he isn't running to get rich like the rest of the political prostitutes. I cannot for the life of me understand how anyone could find that dangerous or anything in his platform offensive.

What is truly dangerous is rhetoric about Nazis and Hitler. It's nothing more than fear mongering. TPP and the outsourcing of all of our jobs are dangerous. There are millions of Americans in poverty and along with the outsourcing, Americans are being fired and their jobs given to the H1B visa holders. We are on the road to a socialist, jobless, borderless country where anyone can walk over the border and squat in this country at the expense of the taxpayers and our safety.

Gary Johnson says he will stop doing drugs if elected. Maybe if he didn't do drugs, he would be cognizant as to what Aleppo, Syria was. He also wants open borders and illegal immigrants in our country. How can you possibly say that he is fiscally conservative when these invaders are costing the taxpayers billions of dollars every year.

Donald Trump is pledging to bring back our jobs, make us safe, protect our borders, repeal and replace Obama Care, strengthen our military, get rid of needless regulations that are hurting our businesses and get our economy rolling again. If that's dangerous, then sign me up, I am a proud deploable for Trump/Pence.

- PROVIDER ON CALL - BURSITIS

Bursitis is a painful condition that affects the small fluid-filled pads (bursae) that act as cushions among your bones and the tendons and muscles near your joints. Bursitis occurs when a bursa becomes inflamed. The most common locations for bursitis are in the shoulders, elbows or hips. But you can also have bursitis by your knee, heel and the base of your big toe. Bursitis often occurs in joints that perform frequent repetitive motion. If you have bursitis, the affected joint may feel achy or stiff; hurt more when you move it or press on it or look swollen and red.

The most common causes of bursitis are repetitive motions or positions that irritate the bursae around a joint. Examples include throwing a baseball or lifting something over your head repeatedly; leaning on your elbows for long periods of time; extensive kneeling, for tasks such as laying carpet or scrubbing floors or prolonged sitting, particularly on hard surfaces.

The occurrence of bursitis becomes more common during middle age. If you work in a profession or have a hobby that requires repetitive motion or pressure on particular bursae, you're at an increased risk of developing bursitis. Professions or hobbies that can cause bursitis include carpet laying; tile setting; gardening; bicycling; baseball or ice skating to name a few. Certain diseases and conditions increase your risk of developing bursitis, such as rheumatoid arthritis; osteoarthritis; gout; thyroid disease or diabetes.

If it appears that something else may be causing the discomfort, your physician may request an X-ray of the affected area. Your doctor may want to perform additional screening to rule out other causes of joint inflammation and pain. This may include blood tests or an analysis of fluid from the inflamed bursa.

Bursitis treatment is usually simple and includes resting and immobilizing the affected area; applying ice to reduce swelling; or taking nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAIDs), such as ibuprofen (Advil, Motrin, others) or naproxen (Aleve, others), to relieve pain and reduce inflammation. Sometimes, your doctor may recommend physical therapy or exercises to strengthen the muscles in the area.

While not all types of bursitis can be prevented, you can reduce your risk and reduce the severity of flare-ups by changing the way you perform certain tasks. Examples include use kneeling pads; cushion your knees; bend your knees when you lift; avoid elbow pressure; wheel heavy loads; take frequent breaks or walk around.

As a Family Practitioner for over 20 years in Southern New Hampshire, I have treated new borns to individuals in their Golden Years. My staff and I believe that prevention is the best cure. Planning Board Approves Enterprise Drive Site Plan

LONDONDERRY TIMES

In a public hearing before the Londonderry Planning Board, Bernie Temple of Eric Mitchell Associates presented a proposal for the Enterprise Drive recovery site plan located at 4 Enterprise Drive. Also in attendance for the Wednesday, Sept. 7 public hearing were Manny Gendron of Gendron and Son Construction, the applicant, and Michael Manick, who is with Gendron Construction.

Town Planner Colleen Mailloux said the application has been accepted as complete.

The Enterprise Drive Recovery Plan for the 3.5-acre site shows it is adjacent to the Rail Trail and has a small brook running along one portion. The plan calls for the construction of a building that would contain four contractor units, each having a 500-square-foot office area in the front and a 1,000-square-foot storage area for equipment and supplies in the back. Each unit would have its own loading dock off the storage area. The parcel fronts on and is entered from Enterprise Drive.

The Conservation Commission in its Design Review had raised a number of concerns that Temple said have been addressed in the proposed plan. A total of 20 parking spaces are planned, with 14 of them in front of the building and six in the rear. The site has municipal water and sewer, and drainage has been captured in one treatment swale.

Turning to the changes in the plan relating to concerns raised by reviewing boards and commissions, Temple said the signs in the buffer zone have been moved to the location requested by Conservation, whose landscape concerns also have been addressed. A double line of trees will be planted as a buffer to the Rail Trail and a three-year bond will be in place for landscape plantings. He said the concern raised about snow being pushed over walls accidentally and into the buffer zone has also been addressed, and there will be no snow in the buffer areas.

Temple said the Heritage Commission had concerns over the color of the building. He said a neutral color would be used. In addition, the Heritage Commission was concerned about plantings and their concerns have been addressed.

Mailloux said no waivers were being sought and the Conditional Use Permit had been provided for the 1,600-foot wetland impact and had been approved by the Planning and Economic Development staff.

Alternate Planning Board member Ann Champa, moved to full voting status with the absence of Scott Benson, said she was concerned about the stream running through the parcel but it appeared the Conservation Commission had addressed that issue. There were no other questions or comments from the board.

Chairman Art Rugg opened the public hearing but as no one was there with questions or comments, he closed the hearing and asked the board for a motion to approve and accept the site plan for 4 Enterprise Drive. The board voted unanimously to approve the site plan as submitted.

OBITUARY

R. Wayne Stockdale

R. Wayne Stockdale, 85, formerly of Cornelius, N.C., died Sept. 3, 2016, in Evergreen Place, Manchester.

Born in Rockford, Ill., on March 23, 1931, he was the only child of Bruce and Mary Marcella (Vosberg) Stockdale.

He grew up in Rockford, Ill., and attained the level of Eagle Scout with the Boy Scouts of America. He served his country as a member of the U.S. Air Force, where he discovered his love for photography.

He would often have a camera on his many hiking and hunting trips through the mountains.

He was employed as an engineer at IBM for 30 years and was one of the original engineers to work on bar code scanners and the technology used to shrink circuit boards. He also had a part in projects from Apollo 2 up until the Shuttle Program. As part of the Moon Lander project, his name can be found on an engraved plaque left on the moon.

During his time in North Carolina, he was a member of St. Therese Church. He enjoyed writing and was an avid storyteller. He was known for his bad jokes that tended to end with a groan.

He is survived by six children, Linda (Rich) Nestor, Kim (Peter) Jones, Randy Wishinsky, Bruce Stockdale, Terry (Sandy) Stockdale and Renee (Mike) Decker; 10 grandchildren; and one great-granddaughter. In lieu of flowers, due to family allergies, donations can be made in his name to Daniel Webster Council of the Boy Scouts of America, Manchester. A family-only service was held at St. Mark's in New Hampshire on Sept. 7. A public service is scheduled for Oct. 28 at St. Therese in Mooresville, N.C. Mass will be held at 11 a.m., followed by a luncheon. The Peabody Funeral Home & Crematorium is assisting the family with arrangements. No Regional Impact Found in Proposed Developments

LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry Planning Board, with just enough voting members present to have a quorum, accepted the determination by the Planning and Economic Development Department concerning whether there is a regional impact to several design review plans submitted to the Department.

Town Planner Colleen Mailloux said at the Wednesday, Sept. 7 meeting that the first phase of a two-phase plan for Bradley Tree and Landscaping at 47 Rockingham Road includes a 400-square-foot office and a 1,600-square-foot warehouse on the 2.08-acre lot. No waivers were sought, and the plan has been reviewed by the Conservation Commission and the Heritage Commission. Mailloux said all the suggestions from the other boards have been addressed, including the number of parking spaces, snow storage and buffer plantings. The Planning and Economic Development Department does not see the proposed plan as meeting the requirements for posing a regional impact.

Regarding the Lorden Commons subdivision plan for phases 2, 3 and 4 at 17 Old Derry Road, Mailloux said the request for a Conditional Use Permit was complete. The Conservation Commission has reviewed the plan for the phases 2, 3 and 4 construction of 83 additional units to the 50 in phase 1, bringing total build-out to 133 units. The design proposed by Keach Nordstrom Associates reduced the wetlands impact and wetland buffer impacts and avoided some wetlands altogether, and the storm water management plan under the Alteration of Terrain Permit is designed to minimize the wetland buffer impacts and has no wetlands impact under the Conditional Use Permit. As such the Planning and Economic Development Department doesn't consider any regional impact.

Mailloux also noted a condominium conversion application for a dwelling at 4 Sunset Drive. By converting the existing two-family dwelling to condominium status, the two units can be sold separately. No physical changes to the building, owned by Richard Grecco, are planned.

As none of the three plans reviewed met the guidelines for having a regional impact, the Planning Board voted unanimously to accept that determination by the Town Planning and Development Department.

In other business:

- Mailloux told the board about a request to purchase a town-owned property at 68 Hall Road. The property was taken by the town by tax lien. The 1-acre site has an existing vacant dwelling.

She told the board that James Taylor wishes to buy the property. Taylor, who was present, said an abandoned trailer sits on the property now that he plans to remove. The waiting period for owners to have paid up the tax lien has expired and Taylor plans to clean up the lot and construct a single family house on the lot.

Mailloux said Taylor has been before the Conservation Commission and is now before the Planning Board seeking approval to purchase the property. The Planning and Development Department approves of the purchase, saying it would return the property to the tax rolls and there are no wetlands to speak of, so there would be no wetland impact.

Planning Board Chair Art Rugg asked if any board members had any questions or comments and seeing none, said he thinks the sale would be a positive for the town to get the property back on the tax rolls. The board unanimously approved the request.

Water

(DES), a "restriction" means that outdoor water use is permitted, but restricted. For example, lawn watering may be limited to twice a week. An "outdoor use" ban means that outdoor water use is not permitted except for a small number of conditions.

The following areas of Londonderry are under restriction:

Pennichuck East Utility Company, Avery Estates and Hickory Woods, Harvest Village, Ministerial Hills, Pinehaven and R & B.

Ponderosa Mobile Home Park is under an outdoor use ban, and Century Village II is under "voluntary restriction."

Rockingham County is in a state of "extreme drought," according to a drought map released Sept. 8 by DES.

O'Brien warned residents to be extremely careful with outdoor burning. This past week, his crews spent two days battling a brush fire on Morrison Drive. The fire went underground, he said, and it took personnel from seven towns to finally extinguish it. The area is a temporary home to the transient population and also a place where "kids hang out," he said. "There are a lot of homemade fire pits."

This particular fire was in the middle of the woods, and they had to cut a road to get into it, he said. Fortunately, he said, the Federal government will partially reimburse them for the losses, which include a couple of hoses and damage to vehicles.

O'Brien urged residents to keep an eye on conditions and check with the Fire Department for that day's burning conditions. "We will advise you," he said. If it's a day that burning is allowed, residents should have some kind of extinguisher handy, he said.

Councilor Tom Dolan asked about the use of fireworks, and O'Brien said, "Right now it is risky and dangerous. The rain has been minimal, the woods are dry. Even homeowners following every safety precaution 'don't know where that projectile will end up,' he said.

Farrell urged residents to conserve water where they can, so there will be enough water to fight fires.

Town and School Receive Donations by Bosch

Both the Londonderry School District and Londonderry Trailways benefited from Bosch Day at Bosch Thermotechnology in Londonderry last week, with Bosch donating nearly $60,000 to area programs. Robert Bosch North America President Mike Mansuetti and Regional President of Bosch Thermotechnology Corp., Vitor Gregorio presented checks to Town Manager Kevin Smith and School Board member Leitha Riley. The funds given came from the company's charitable foundation, the Bosch Community Fund, which focuses on local STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics) and environmental programs. The money received by the school district will go to a fifth-grade STEM program in the district. Londonderry High School also received a 3D printer. Receiving funding as well was the Manchester School District.

Derry Medical Center Foundation Makes Rail Trail Donation

The Derry Medical Center Charitable Foundation recently presented a check for $4,000 to Londonderry Trailways for Phases four and five of the Londonderry Rail Trail.

This newest section will open up another 1.3 miles west of the current trail, traversing the Little Cohas Brook section described by some as "the most beautiful part of Londonderry that nobody knows about." Once completed, there will be 4.5 miles of trail in Londonderry.

"Supporting construction of the Londonderry Rail Trail is a natural tie-in to the healthy lifestyles we advocate for our patients," said John Daley, M.D., a Derry Medical Center physician and Londonderry Trailways board member. "Riding bikes on the weekends with your kids is a perfect activity for family fun, which is also great exercise."

Derry Medical Center and its Foundation have been supporters of both the Derry Rail Trail and Londonderry Rail Trail for many years. The providers at Derry Medical Center know that a pleasant place to be outside and exercise promotes the health of its patients, and enhances the greater community.

Since its founding in 1999, Londonderry Trailways has advocated for trails around Londonderry, and at the completion of the trail, it will connect to the Derry Rail Trail in the south, and the Manchester Rail Trail in the north.

"We are very grateful to the Derry Medical Center Charitable Foundation for its generous contribution," said Bob Rimol, project manager of the Londonderry Rail Trail. "Cyclists, walkers and families are already enjoying the completed sections of the trail, and we hope the gift from Derry Medical will encourage many other donations from local companies and citizens."

More information about Londonderry Trailways and how to donate can be found at www.LondonderryTrails.org.

years of revenue in a row, Smith said he would "bump up" the revenue estimates for 2017.

It's a sign of the efficiency of local government, Councilor Tom Dolan observed. "We are the smallest unit of government, compared to county, state and Federal," he said. "Look at the Federal government, with its $20 trillion deficit. We don't do deficit spending here, we pay as we go. If we don't have it, we don't spend it."

Dolan continued, "I hope other levels of government will use ours as an example. Don't spend beyond your means, save something for a rainy day."

In other business, the Council approved the withdrawal of $46,161.59 from the Fire Truck Capital Reserve Fund for the lease/purchase of a tanker for the department.

The contract is with

First Niagara, and with the approval, Finance Director Doug Smith said, "We will continue to have a fleet that is second to none."

Fire Chief O'Brien said the life of the new tanker is estimated at 15 years.

The Council unanimously approved the appropriation of funds.

Nominations Sought for Revived LHS Hall of Fame

KATHLEEN D. BAILEY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Athletic Leadership Council is looking for nominees for a revived LHS Hall of Fame.

In June the Council and adviser Crystal Rich presented their plan to the School Board, which approved the reestablishment of the program. Now all they need are nominees.

Laura Doherty, a senior and member of the Leadership Council, said the program has been dormant for about 10 years. "It's a good way to honor people who have not gotten the credit they deserve," Doherty said.

Though she is a two-season athlete, participating in soccer and crew, Doherty said the vision of the Leadership Council goes beyond sports. "It can be anyone who has made an impact," she said, "with a charity, someone who works on the athletic fields, someone who helps behind the scenes." LHS alumni of five years or more are eligible, she said.

"What we're looking for," Doherty said, "is anyone who embodies the Lancer spirit."

The process works with community members nominating graduates for the honor.

This year there is no limit on the number of nominees they will accept, Doherty said, though in the future they may restrict the amount in the final cut. "But right now we're trying to make up for lost time," she said.

The nominations go to members of a Selection Committee who review the applications. "It's up to them," Doherty said. But if someone doesn't make the cut this year, they stay in a pool for nominees, she added.

Those chosen will be honored at a Hall of Fame Dinner Nov. 26, and will have their names and possibly photos on a special wall, Doherty said.

"Right now we're in the process of getting the forms out," she said.

The team is working on the composition of the nominating committee and is looking for one or two community members, Doherty said. While they have several alumni on staff, they are also open to alumni outside the teaching field, she said.

"We would love to have a well-rounded group of inductees - artists, musicians, athletes, parent volunteers," she said.

Nominations are due Oct. 1. For more information or to obtain a nomination form, visit the school Web site. Nominations forms may be mailed to the school or e-mailed to Rich at crich@londonderry.org.

Why are they reviving the Hall of Fame? For Doherty, it's so no alumnus will be overlooked. "I feel it's important to highlight the people who work behind the scenes," she said. "We take them for granted. We need to be mindful, and give them the recognition they deserve."

Lancer Gridders See Record Slip to 0-2 With Loss to Central

CHRIS PANTAZIS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Manchester Central junior running back Jeremyiah Rivera enjoyed a career night in leading his Little Green football contingent to a 41-19 defeat of the now 0-2 Londonderry High Lancers at LHS Friday night, Sept. 9.

The speedy Central back tore off a number of big runs en route to a total of 307 yards and five touchdowns on 31 carries for the now 1-1 Queen City crew.

Rivera scored on sprints of 27, five, 52, 67, and two yards and left the Londonderry High coaches yelling for their players to "wrap-up" the elusive Central back time and again to no avail. He already had more than 160 yards and three scores by halftime.

"We knew he was good, and we told the guys all week that we had to shut down number 24 (Rivera) and number 13 (senior wide receiver James Tanguay), but we didn't execute," said LHS coach Jimmy Lauzon.

The Lancers did a significantly better job against wide-out Tanguay, who was held to three catches for 19 yards. But Rivera did enough for a handful of players on this night.

Londonderry had plenty of incentive to play well coming off of a frustrating, turnover-filled season-opening loss to Goffstown on the road the previous Saturday. The Lancers had the recent passing of beloved Lancer Gridiron Club volunteer Dan Johnson fresh in mind, and they were collecting funds for the Johnson family and hosting a "White-Out" night that evening with all of the LHS football faithful dressed in white in memory of Johnson. It was also Lauzon's 28th birthday, so incentives abounded for the local crew.

Rivera gave his team an early 7-0 lead by capping off Central's first offensive drive with a 27-yard sprint to pay-dirt with a little more than eight minutes to go in the opening period.

After having its own first offensive series end with a very unwelcome pass interception, Londonderry got the ball back quickly on a fumble recovery by Cam MacDonald on the Manchester team's 28-yard-line. And just three plays later the hosts were celebrating quarterback Jake Stevens' 6-yard scoring toss to MacDonald.

But the Lancers would turn the football over three more times in the half on another interception and two fumbles. And Central capitalized in tallying 20 unanswered points to carry a 27-7 advantage to halftime.

Londonderry wouldn't turn the ball over again the rest of the night, and they showed plenty of spunk in attempting to battle their way back in the second half. But the early damage done in the first half was sufficient to extinguish any realistic comeback efforts by the locals during periods three and four.

The Lancers' dozen second-half points came thanks to a superb 24-yard scoring sprint by junior Ben Johnson, whose late father, Dan, was firmly in the thoughts of the Londonderry fans on this night, and via a 20-yard scoring toss from Stevens to Adam Wilkinson.

Senior signal-caller Stevens finished the night having completed 17 of the 34 passes he attempted for 202 yards and two scores. He targeted Peter Navarro numerous times, with that fellow senior making seven grabs for 133 total yards.

"We could go and figure it out one of these Friday nights. But until then we're going to be angry with ourselves," said Lau-zon of the defeat.

The Lancers will continue their hunt for their first victory Friday night, Sept. 16, when they face off against the Bedford High Bulldogs on the road.

Lady Lancer Booters Sit at 2-2 After Their First Four Games

Halle Hamilton scored the lone LHS goal in its recent 3-1 loss to Concord. Photo by Chris Paul

LONDONDERRY TIMES

Early-season ups and downs continued for the Londonderry High girls' soccer squad last week, with the locals having a pair of defeats during that span after starting the 2016 season with a pair of victories.

The Lady Lancers pelted plenty of shots on the Bishop Guertin net when they visited the Lady Cardinals in Nashua Tuesday, Sept. 6. But when the final buzzer sounded, the host Guertin crew had netted the only goal in a 1-0 match.

The Lady Cards tallied that lone goal in the 28th minute of the opening half, and their goalie Caroline Hoffer turned aside 11 Londonderry shots in helping to bag the shut-out for her contingent.

LHS goalie Ryann Boudreau made two stops in her team's cage.

The win pushed the BG bunch's season record to 2-2 while the Lady Lancers moved to 2-1.

Londonderry then aimed to return to the winning path on Friday, Sept. 9 when it played host to the Concord Crimson Tide. But the visiting booters ended up being a couple of goals better than the young Lancer squad in a 3-1 match.

All four goals were potted in the first half of the match, with Londonderry getting the fun started when Halle Hamilton popped home a free kick in the 17th minute of play.

Concord responded with markers in minutes 22, 33, and 38 to get to what would be the final score of 3-1.

Once again the Lady Lancers had no shortage of shots on the opposing net, as they belted 11 blasts on Crimson Tide keeper Nicole Cacciola, who stifled 10 of them for her 3-2 contingent. Londonderry goalie Boudreau finished the match with 11 stops.

This week's slate had the girls set to play at Exeter High School on Tuesday, Sept. 13, after Londonderry Times press time, before a much briefer road trip over to Alvirne in Hudson to play the Lady Broncos this Thursday, Sept. 16.

Lady Lancer Spikers Get Blanked in Their First Three Matches

CHRIS PANTAZIS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School girls' volleyball squad experienced a distinctly rocky start to its 2016 season recently, getting shut out by its first three opponents to start out at 0-3.

The second and third of those shutout losses came last week as the Lady Lancers were blanked by the Goffstown Lady Grizzlies at LHS and were then dealt a resounding defeat by the host Bishop Guertin Lady Cardinals in Nashua days later.

The home defeat happened on Tuesday, Sept. 6 and left Goffstown with a 1-1 record while the hosts slipped to 0-2.

The Lady Lancers faced an undefeated BG contingent in the Gate City on Friday, Sept. 9 losing game decisions of 25-18, 25-19, and 25-14 in slipping to 0-3 on the still-young campaign.

The LHS crew received 17 assists from Ashley Andrews, seven service points with two aces from Alyssa Pento, seven kills from Emily Vrettos, four digs from Anna Haas, and two shot blocks from Josie Collins.

The team came into this week slated to play at Exeter on Wednesday, Sept. 14, after Londonderry Times press time, and then in Hudson at Alvirne High School on Friday afternoon, Sept. 16.

FUELING SAVINGS AND SECURITY

An annual tune-up of your oil heat system means less fuel consumption this winter. Equally important, a well-maintained system provides reliability and peace of mind. LHS Boy Booters Seeking Improvement as Campaign Moves Forward

CHRIS PANTAZIS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

In assessing his 2016 Londonderry High boys' soccer squad four matches into its new season late last week, Lancer coach Todd Ellis was left feeling that his charges are proving themselves capable of plenty of good things but still with a number of areas in which improvement is definitely required.

Ellis' Lancers sat at the .500 mark at 2-2 following those games, with a shutout victory over a Nashua opponent and a one-goal loss to a Capital City rival freshest in mind.

The Lancers drove their season record up to 2-1 with a 2-0 blanking of the Bishop Guertin Cardinals of Nashua at LHS Tuesday, Sept. 6.

Nalen Iarribino handed the hosts what would prove to be the winning goal - on an assist from Josh Rutina - at the 14:30 mark of the first half. And in the final minute of the match, Iarribino set up Josh Ryan for an insurance marker for the Lancer crew. Goalie Cam Wheeler had three saves to contribute to the Londonderry success.

"I thought we started out the game and did a really good job of possessing the ball," said Ellis. "I would like to see us be more consistent, and have more intensity when we move into the attack. I thought our turnovers put our defense under unnecessary pressure at times. We generated some really good scoring opportunities today. We will need to continue to work on that so they change from chances to goals."

The Londonderry High bunch then returned to action on Friday, Sept. 9 in the state capital to face the Concord High Crimson Tide. And despite some scoring opportunities early on, the local booters ended up absorbing a 1-0 defeat to fall to 2-2 as the Tide crew improved to 3-1.

"We started the game and created four great chances. I thought we controlled the first 20 minutes. We finish those chances and it's a different game," said Ellis. "This was a good test for us. If we want to improve we need less turnovers, better decision-making, and be able to finish. We have the skill, but need to improve in those areas."

LHS goalie Wheeler made four saves his contribution to the effort, and he and his teammates strode into this week looking at matches slated for this Tuesday, Sept. 13 at home against the 4-1 Exeter High Blue Hawks (after Londonderry Times press time) and then at home on Thursday, Sept. 16 against the struggling Alvirne High squad of Hudson (1-4).

LONDONDERRY TIMES

The 2016 campaign has not started exceptionally well for a Londonderry High School field hockey contingent that began its regular season hoping to at least come close to its 2015 Final-Four finish.

But the losses subsequently suffered to graduation and injuries have made things very challenging for LHS veteran coach Laura Federico and her Lady Lancers, and the Londonderry bunch went just 1-4-1 in its first half-dozen contests of the fall.

Federico's force bagged its first victory of the still-young campaign early last week at home, but absorbed its fourth defeat two days later in the state's capital.

The Lady Lancers tallied that first victory of the season Tuesday, Sept. 6 in a 1-0 edging of the visiting Bedford High Lady Bulldogs.

The hosts got the winning goal from Alison Whitehead early in the first half, and goalie Danielle Ziv made nine stops in helping the Lady Lancers to both their first victory and shutout of the campaign.

But the Londonderry side wasn't any match for the Concord High Crimson Tide in the state capital on Thursday, Sept. 8, absorbing a 4-1 loss at the hands of that tough host.

The Lady Lancer squad stepped into this week with a Monday match at Exeter, and with a home contest against the Merrimack High Lady Tomahawks Friday, Sept. 16. That Merrimack contingent is coached by longtime LHS physical education teacher and former Lady Lancer field hockey coach Ann MacLean.

In the match against Exeter, Lancers collected a 1-0 victory thanks to an Alivia Proulx goal that was set up by Alli Marsh. That lone goal in the match came with just nine minutes left in the game.

"The entire team stepped up today and played outstanding," said Federico. "The defensive marking and the passing with the middies and forwards were amazing."

Former Lancer Kilgore Running to Successes at Bay State College

CHRIS PANTAZIS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Former Londonderry High cross-country standout Damon Kilgore continues to do great things in that sport at Gordon College in Wenham, Mass. And so far his junior cross-country campaign has been nothing short of exceptional.

Several weeks ago, the LHS grad set the course record at the Roger Williams Invitational for the second year in a row. Kilgore set an official personal best in the 5-Kilometer event with a 15 minute, 34.56 second finish, a full 36 seconds ahead of second-place finisher Daniel McSolla of Wentworth. The previous course record was 16:12, and it was set by Kilgore during his sophomore season in 2015.

"Damon ran a great race," said new Gordon head cross-country coach Justin Wikerd. "He came in as our number one and finished very well for a course that runs slow because of all the turns."

Then on Tuesday, Sept. 6, Kilgore claimed the first Commonwealth Coast Conference Runner of the Week award of the 2016 season as a result of that record-setting success at the Roger Williams event in Rhode Island.

Athletes of the Week

For the Week of Sept. 4

Jake Donnelly, Junior, Boys' Cross-Country

This talented 11th grader's hard work over the summer is starting to pay off as he was the team's number two runner in its meet against Exeter and Pinkerton. He was also a part of the three-man relay that won at the Souhegan Relays.

Kalin Gregoire, Junior, Girls' Cross-Country

Even before starting her high school athletic career, this skilled runner made news as a runner. And she continues to be a stalwart in high school, most recently finishing third at Exeter against two of the best runners in Division I.

Boy Harriers Enjoy a Strong Week of Action

CHRIS PANTAZIS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Coach Matt Smith had plenty of reasons to beam with pride last weekend after watching his 2016 Londonderry High Lancer boys' cross-country team put forth several very strong performances over the previous days.

Smith's smart and speedy stalwarts soundly defeated the defending Division I champions from Pinkerton Academy and the host Exeter High Blue Hawks in a tri-meet on the seacoast Tuesday, Sept. 6, and then followed up that fine bit of work by finishing second overall at the annual Souhegan Saber Relays in Amherst three days later.

In the three-team meet at Exeter High, the Lancers tallied a team score of 25 to best the rebuilding Pinkerton Astros (45) and Exeter (63) quite comfortably.

The dominant Londonderry crew placed three finishers in the top five and five in the top 10, with Chris Zaino finishing first overall in 16 minutes and 30 seconds. His teammate Jake Donnelly was right behind him in second (17:16), Declan Hotter took fifth (17:42), Connor Keeley ended up eighth (18:08), and Brian Metro finished ninth (18:10).

Then on Friday at the Souhegan event on the Freestyle Farm course in Amherst, the locals ended up second behind only Nashua North. The North Titans finished with a team score of 13, while Londonderry tallied a 20 to finish as the runner-up crew among some eight teams.

Fifty-and-Over Softball League Closes Out its Regular Season, Tourney Ahead

CHRIS PANTAZIS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry 50-and-Over Softball League finished its regular campaign last week with a couple of tight contests.

And when the diamond dust cleared, the Birch Tree Counseling Center squad had the regular season title in its grasp.

Birch Tree started its regular season-ending contest by plating nine runs against Efficient Energy Systems, but the EEC crew refused to go away and it battled its way back into the fray before Birch Tree got its offense rolling again in earnest in the sixth and then had its defense hold off the opposing offense in the seventh frame.

That result left Birch Tree with a league-best 10-4 record and 20 points. Rocco's Pizza ended up second at 8-6-1 with 17 points after it dropped a one-run decision to the Justin Time Snacks Eagles in the regular season-closer for both squads.

The Eagles ended up third at 8-7 with 16 points, and Efficient Energy ended up fourth at 2-11-1 with five points.

Those finishes left the local league contemplating tournament play in the ensuing days.

Londonderry Couple Write, Illustrate Children's Book

PENNY WILLIAMS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

A Londonderry husband and wife have joined forces to write and illustrate a children's book that has recently been published.

Brian Macdonald and his wife, Brenda, are thrilled that their first book has been published and are cooperatively working on more to come. The inaugural book, "Bob Hikes Mount Monadnock," was published by Shanti Arts of Brunswick, Maine and is a children's picture book about a boy's love for adventure and nature.

Brian Macdonald said, "I have no other writing experience but my wife has been interested in art for a long time. She has sold over 20 paintings, landscapes as well as portraits of people, pets and houses. She has also sold a stained glass light shield and several small wood-carvings."

The boy in the book was named Bob in honor of the couple's late uncle Bob, Robert H. Kendall of Fitchburg, Mass. The book is dedicated to Kendall as follows; "Uncle Bob enjoyed climbing Mount Monadnock and many other mountains. He climbed whenever he could, and on each hike he picked up the litter left behind by careless hikers who did not 'Carry In, Carry Out.' He also helped maintain the trails on Monadnock and became well known and well liked by all the Park Rangers. His love for the outdoors helped inspire us to enjoy the outdoors and the beauty around us, and we hope this book will inspire a new generation to appreciate and care for the natural world."

The couple said their careers did not impact the book. Macdonald currently works in security, and Brenda has worked for Microsemi for over 30 years as an electronic assembler.

They don't have children, but they have hiked Monadnock many times, with Brian noting his wife has hiked all 67 mountains in New England that are over 4,000 feet tall.

Brian said they are planning on a series of "Bob Hikes" books. "I have written the text for 'Bob Hikes Mount Tecumseh' and my wife is working on the illustrations," he said. "I am also currently working on a Young Adult novel about a teenage girl growing up in New Hampshire."

Their first book took Brian about six weeks to write, although he did not write every day. He said it took Brenda several months to do the 29 illustrations, all by hand - first in black pencil, and after the publisher approved them, then in color.

Brian said he hopes their book will inspire others to climb Mount Monadnock.

He noted the book conveys educational suggestions to prepare for hiking the mountain - eating a good breakfast before hiking a mountain, wearing proper clothing when hiking, being prepared for bad weather, bringing plenty of water when hiking, following Carry In Carry Out, not running on the trail, and staying together when hiking.

This is one of the many illustrations by Brenda Macdonald that breathe color and life into the book "Bob Hikes Mount Monadnock," written by her husband, Brian Macdonald.

First Nagy Memorial Race is Scheduled for Sept. 25

CHRIS PANTAZIS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Rich Nagy influenced countless student athletes during his many years as a track and field coach and math teacher and department head at Londonderry High School, and his unexpected passing last year touched a great many folks. Now, they get to pay him back in at least a small way by taking part in the First Richard Nagy Memorial Scholarship Fund 2-Mile Walk/Run at Hollis-Brookline High School, where Nagy also taught before retiring.

The event will take place starting at 10 a.m. on Sept. 25, and proceeds will go to the Richard Nagy Memorial Scholarship Fund at Hollis-Brookline High.

Additional donations may be made to the scholarship fund electronically by going to "YouCaring.com" and choosing the "Richard Nagy Memorial Scholarship Fund," or by a check made payable to Lancer Timing Services.

Race applications should be mailed no later than Monday, Sept. 19 to Lancer Timing Services, P.O. Box 5472, West Lebanon, NH, 03784, or send your form electronically to rick@lancertiming.com.

Race-day registration will begin at 8:30 a.m. at Hollis-Brookline High School, 24 Cavalier Court, Hollis. Number pick-up for pre-registrations will also take place at the high school.

The two-mile route will begin and end at Hollis-Brookline High School.

Specially-designed shirts will be presented to the first 100 race registrants.

More race information can be obtained at the Lancer Timing Services website. Nagy and Rick Berryman co-founded that timing service company together before Nagy handed the reins over to his partner and moved to Florida.

Search for Town's Oldest Citizen

The town of Londonderry is searching for town's oldest citizen to be presented The Boston Post Cane. The Boston Post Cane tradition started in 1909 when the Boston Post newspaper delivered the cane to 700 towns in New England for them to be presented to the oldest citizens. Candidates must be the oldest known citizen in town documented by birth certificate, passport or voter registration; a resident of Londonderry for at least 25 years; and a U.S. Citizen, Naturalized or registered voter. For more info contact: Kay Webber, Londonderry Historical Society, 24 Peabody Row, Londonderry. Call 432-2886. Deadline is Sept. 30.

Road Paving

Continuing into the fall, the Town of Londonderry will begin paving the following roads: Boyd, Harvey near #22, Harvey from the Reserve Center to Pettengill, Industrial Drive from Pettengill to Commerce Way, and portions of Kendall Pond Road, King Arthur Drive, McAllister Drive, Merlin Place, Pettengill from Planeview Drive to Industrial Drive, Stokes, West from Wiley Hill Road to Quarry Drive, and White Plains Avenue. For questions, call the Department of Public Works at 432-1100, ext. 193.

Women's Club Scholarship

The Londonderry Women's Club is accepting applications for an adult female scholarship in the amount of $500. The requirements are: must be a female at least 25 years of age and a current resident of Londonderry; and must be currently enrolled at an accredited post-secondary institution and have completed a minimum of half of the time or credits toward the named graduate degree, certificate or licensing program. Applications will be accepted through Sept. 30, and are available at the Leach Library and online at www.londonderrywomen-sclub.org.

Coffee Chat

Rabbi Peter Levy of Etz Hayim Synagogue and the Reverend Ray Bonin of the Church of the Transfiguration, both in Derry, host an open discussion on Thursday, Sept. 22 from 6:30 to 8 p.m. at Coffeeberries in the Apple Tree Mall, 4 Orchard View Drive, Londonderry. The event offers a place for respectful discussion with no agenda, no proselytizing and no converting. For information, call 432-0004 or email rabbi@etzhayim.org.

Poetry Reading

Classified Advertising

READERS ARE CAUTIONED that we occasionally run ads that require an initial investment or money in advance. We urge our readers to "do their homework" before responding to any ad, check out the advertiser thoroughly and verify their claims to your total satisfaction. Only then should you proceed at your own risk. We try to screen ads that require you to send money before receiving a product or service. But these efforts are no substitute for your own investigation, and we don't endorse or guarantee any claims made in any of the ads we publish. If you want more information about claims made in ads on subjects such as work at home opportunities, travel or vacation specials, purchasing land or vehicles from government surplus or below wholesale, loans or other credit opportunities (including credit repair), or weight loss and other health products and services, we urge you to contact the Office of Attorney General, Consumer Protection Bureau, 33 Capitol Street, Concord, NH 03301 (603-271-3641) or the Better Business Bureau at 603-224-1991. Publisher is not responsible for any loss of business if an ad does not run, and we reserve the right to revoke any ad if deemed necessary. No refunds will be given for prepaid ads.

Annual Family Safety Day Helps Residents Stay Safe

The Londonderry Child Passenger Safety Program and Moose Hill PTA (Parent Teacher Association), in cooperation with Londonderry Fire Rescue and the Londonderry Police Department, sponsored the 16th annual Londonderry Family Safety Day on Saturday, Sept. 10 at Matthew Thornton Elementary School. New exhibits this year included assistance from the Injury Prevention Center at CHaD (Children's Hospital at Dartmouth-Hitchcock), AT&T's "It Can Wait" exhibit with information on the dangers of texting while driving, the Senior Balance Program and American Red Cross Disaster

Recovery. Friends of Music provided hot dogs and hamburgers, with donations received going to help the Lancer music program, and the Moose Hill PTA held a bake sale. The CHiP (Child ID Program), sponsored by the New Hampshire Freemasons, also took part in the event. Pictured are the St. Jude Maidens assisting with the CHIP program, children enjoying the bounce house provided, and attendees being treated to ice cream being made with the help of some liquid nitrogen.

To Our Readers and Advertisers: Nutfield Publishing would like to thank our advertisers for their support of this publication and for giving us the ability to supply our readers with local news, sports and achievements free of charge to every home in town each week. Readers, please let our advertisers that you patronize know that you saw their ad in this paper.

Nutfield Publishing WANTED

Nutfield Publishing is looking for a town reporter who wants to make a difference.

We need someone with a sharp eye for finding the personal touch in community news, and with the ability to manage lots of assignments, ask the tough questions, and write clearly.

The job covers a broad range of reporting, from local government to school news to features, all with a focus on the people we cover. This is not a job for a beginner. It requires a four-year college degree and reporting experience. Apply with cover letter, resume and clips.
