Top Ten Seniors Prepare for Academic Challenges Ahead

JOHN SEIDENBERG
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The top ten students of the class of 2021 at Londonderry High School are about to embark on their chosen fields of study as the next level of education approaches.

The students will be honored at a Top Ten Dinner in June. They will be recognized at the LHS Graduation June 11 on the school campus.

The Londonderry Times asked each about their plans and interests. Valedictorian Madison Walden is the 2021 class president and has held that position in her class all four years of high school. She has lived in Londonderry since age 4. In the fall she'll attend Boston College with a planned continued on page 5

Fight Club Prompts Town Council to Close Road

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Town Council voted to temporarily close a small cul-de-sac that overlooks the Manchester Boston Regional Airport during their meeting on Monday night, May 17, after being given a report that a "fight club" has started on that road.

The road is known by Memorial Drive, which is adjacent to the Pet Cemetery near the intersection of Harvey Road and Pettengill Road.

Town Solicitor Mike Malaguti and Airport Commander Chris Gandia presented a resolution for the temporary closure and gave the board some background on what's been happening there.

Malaguti told the Town Council that the Police Department has recently been made aware of an unusual phenomenon taking place at Memorial Drive for a fight club.

He explained that because of the way the cul-de-sac circle forms a slight depression, it has formed a kind of fighting ring.

The large crowds that are forming there are also leaving a significant amount of trash behind in the area.

Malaguti explained that recently, there have been Jersey Barriers installed by the Department of Public Works to block the circle area on the road to prevent people from driving onto the circle.

He also added that there is still enough room for people to park if they are visiting the Pet Cemetery.

Malaguti and Gandia were looking to close the area temporarily until a more permanent solution can be reached and to install some "No Trespassing" signs.

Town Manager Kevin Smith asked what ages were involved in the fighting that was hap-

New Mack's Owner Looks to Set the Record Straight

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

A few weeks ago the community got the news that the oldest family run farm in Londonderry was being sold to a new owner and Moose Hill Orchards would now be run by Kyle Chrestensen, a Derry resident.

Since then, a number of articles have been written on the sale of the farm, and as a result, rumors and speculation have popped up on local social media sites as to what will now become of the land that has been farmed by the Mack family for about 300 years.

As was stated in the last article the Londonderry Times published, most of the land that the Mack's owned was put into conservation easements over the years and very little of it can be developed for anything other than for some form of farming.

Meaning no large apartment complex or housing development can be built on the land.

We recently spoke with both the new owner and with Andy Mack Senior and were told that the long-term plan for the farm is to keep it running as an apple orchard.

Chrestensen told the Times, "Farming has always been my passion since growing up working on a farm for many years. It had such a continued on page 2 great influence on me and taught me a number of valuable life and work skills that I'm so grateful for. Having a farm was my dream and I'm very happy to take over Mack's Apples."

He also thanked Mack, "I want to thank Andy Mack Sr. for his guidance and all of the employees at Mack's Apples for their hard work and dedication."

In regard to what will happen to the land now that it has a new owner, Chrestensen added, "As many people are speculating about the future of the property, the plan is simple and it's to farm the land, make some improvements and add new goods and activities. We want to preserve the history, the land and the beauty of Mack's orchards for the next generations to enjoy. For many people Mack's is the place for building a tradition and reconnecting with their roots and we would love it to stay that way. No condos, apartments, malls are going to be built. The ice cream stand is staying as well. We are looking forward to the upcoming season and will be open for U-Pick in a couple of months. We are also planting our own vegetables and flowers this year. As for new products and activities, stay tuned to our social media accounts."

It should be noted that the land Chrestensen owns does not include the area near the Grange in the center of town. Residents recently voted for the town to purchase that land and only five acres of that land could be developed for a town facility such as a civic center or School District office. The other 23 acres was designated as conservation land and Moose Hill Orchard is being allowed to farm the land indefinitely.

Old Home Day Committee Planning Revamped Event This Year

JOHN SEIDENBERG
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Londonderry's Old Home Day Committee is moving ahead on this year's event with some changes planned following last year's COVID-related cancellation.

Organizers have devised a framework for Old Home Day activities Aug. 18-22 with town staff assuming an organizational role and seeking commitments to take on implementation work for the festivities.

Invitations have been sent to past parade participants, Town Manager Kevin Smith reported during a meeting of the committee May 6. Replies indicating participation this year have been received from the Shriner clowns, Pinkerton band, Londonderry High School band, the Northeast Italian Band, NH Police Association Pipes and Drums, and LHS Dance Team.

Smith expects more responses as others wait to see how events for the summer are materializing.

Some sponsors have sent in checks, he said. They include $2,500 each from Continental Paving and Spindel Eye Associates. Others who sent checks last year have asked the town to use them for this year.

More sponsors are being sought to help defray event costs.

Smith noted some towns have again called off events for this year and said he's encouraged that Old Home Day will be back in Londonderry this year after last year's cancellation in the wake of the pandemic.

The event has posed a challenge in recent years in having grown to require volunteers over all five days. The most difficult part to manage has been the kidz night, Smith observed. For that reason there's been talk of making some changes this year.

An alternative would be incorporating the kids' events into Saturday's activities. That could be combining the children's activities with carnival games.

Also under consideration are having trains at the Matthew Thornton School, exotic animals, fire trucks as part of Touch-A-Truck, and a DJ.

Plans at present are to have the Concerts on the Common on Wednesday night which doesn't require volunteers. Thursday night would become senior night with Catherine Blash, senior affairs director, coordinating those events. Elected officials, Lions Club members, and seniors have volunteered then in the past.

Thought is being given to possibly moving the concert to Thursday and having a town social or town walks.

Friday night is set to feature fireworks preceded by a Londonderry vs. Derry softball game. The fireworks would be part of a carnival with food vendors. People could be seated in the school bleachers and field behind the Londonderry High School track, Smith said.

That would enable the opportunity to spread out and have room for a band to play, he added.

Volunteers will be needed on Saturday for the baby contest in the morning followed by the parade with people spread out along the parade route. Volunteers would be needed as well at the 603 Brewery area. There may be a bonfire that night along with the Boot Scootin Boogie.

Because of spacing concerns there may not be acts on the band stand this year with that area instead used differently. This year will have no bounce houses due to insurance issues nor will movies be shown.

The Londonderry Historical Society plans activities at the Morri-son House though the building itself will probably be closed.

If senior night and the concert were on Wednesday, organizers are considering a possible Taste of the Town event featuring different restaurants set up under tents at the Lions Club parking lot with use of the pavilion for attendees to sample food they have purchased.

That could include a trolley tour to promote local businesses.

Sunday activities are expected to be left up to local churches.

Work on the event planning is continuing this month.

A Day of Remembering

In the town squares and commons and historic cemeteries of New Hampshire, the statue of a Civil War soldier is a sight often taken for granted. But a vestige of that war remains part of our lives today, as we mark the occasion of Memorial Day this coming Monday.

Memorial Day was officially proclaimed and observed in 1868 by General John Logan, national commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, as a time when flowers were placed on the graves of Union and Confederate soldiers at Arlington National Cemetery. Evidence of an even earlier day of remembrance comes from records of the decoration of Confederate soldiers' graves by women's groups in the South before the end of the Civil War. By 1890, the day, originally called Decoration Day, was recognized by all northern states, while the South honored its dead on a separate date.

Then came World War I, and the day changed to a time of remembrance throughout the country for all who gave their lives in military service to the United States.

Many more wars have taken the lives of American servicemen and women since then, and there will most likely be more even thought that may not look the same. But even with the present-day fighting, it's easy to look at Memorial Day as just another chance for a three-day weekend, an extra day off from work and school, a time for barbecues and mowing the lawn and planting the flower garden, but it so much more to the day.

We suggest a different focus. Those Civil War statues, and the old cemeteries where tiny American flags stand vigil by graves, are visual reminders that thousands of lives have been given in the name of their nation's service - and more are at risk today. Memorial Day is a good time to think about what those familiar objects represent. And how are precious freedoms are protected.

Ceremonies in our towns will center on the cemeteries and the statues, on the flags and the wreaths, a gesture of how we appreciate the self-sacrifice that has and will happen to protect us and or rights.

This Memorial Day, we encourage you to take time from your lives and your extra day of leisure to remember, and to thank those who have made the ultimate sacrifice, as well as those who stand ready to do so today. And let us hope that sacrifice will someday no longer be necessary

Butler at it Again

Well, it seems the only time that Town Councilor Jim Butler has anything significant to say is when he's angry at someone or something.

This time, he once again decided to attack his fellow councilor Debra Paul for a comment she recently made at a Planning Board meeting, where she sits as the Town Council liaison.

Butler took exception to Paul commenting on a Derry Medical project plan that was before the board, saying he felt there was a conflict of interest, because the owner could potentially choose to advertise in her newspaper as a result of her vote/comment.

He accused Paul of breaking the Town Charter and wanted an investigation started. An investigation that would result in a significant waste of the taxpayer's money because of a personal grudge he holds against Deb.

I suggest that the town's counsel take Butler's motion one step further and see how many plans that the Butler family have commented on in the past that have the potential of buying the potential of buying Jake Butler (Jim's son who sits on the Planning Board) as a landscaper.

As a matter of fact, the Planning Board chair even recently suggested that Jake Butler give landscaping advice to a developer who was presenting a plan before the board at a meeting.

The Butler duo have been gunning for Deb

Paul since she was elected and looking for any fault they can find in her actions in hopes to have her removed.

Jim was recently re-elected and campaigned under the premise of how much he loves this community. I would suggest that no one in Londonderry tries to do more for this community than my wife, Deb Paul, and maybe that's what Butler most hates about her. Shameful.

Just remember Jim, "When you point a finger at someone, three point back at you."

Chris Paul, Deb Paul's husband/business partner.

CRT Response

To the editor,
Janet Griffin and Bob Pitre wrote letters last week voicing their concerns about potential introduction of Critical Race Theory into Londonderry schools. I commend Janet on her letter, as she clearly cited her references. This was very helpful in writing this response. One of her references cited the Federal Register of (4/19/21) Proposed Rules, Department of Education, "Proposed Priorities—American History and Civics Education". I believe this is the source of the current uproar. Here is what the Department of Education wants.

"Proposed Priorities: The Department proposes two priorities to support the development of culturally responsive teaching and learning and the promotion of information literacy skills in grants under the American History and Civics Education programs."

"Proposed Priority 1—Projects That Incorporate Racially, Ethnically, Culturally, and Linguistically Diverse Perspectives into Teaching and Learning."

"Proposed Priority: Under this priority, the applicants propose projects that incorporate teaching and learning practices that reflect the diversity, identities, histories, contributions, and experiences of all students create inclusive, supportive, and identity-safe learning environments."

"Proposed Priority 2—Promoting Information Literacy Skills."

"Proposed Priority: In its application, the applicants propose projects that describe how they will foster critical thinking and promote student engagement in civics education through professional development or other activities designed to support students in—(a) Evaluating sources and evidence using standards of proof; (b) Understanding their own biases when reviewing information, as well as uncovering and recognizing bias in primary and secondary sources; (c) Synthesizing information into cogent communications; and (d) Understanding how inaccurate information may be used to manipulate individuals, and developing strategies to recognize accurate and inaccurate information."

Town Counciler Wants investigation on Conflict of Interest

KAITLIN BEDELL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry Town Council once again saw a heated debate between members Jim Butler and Deb Paul during their May 17. The controversy between the two sparked as Butler presented allegations of Paul's supposed "conflict of interest" regarding her involvement in both the Londonderry Planning Board and her ownership of the Londonderry Times.

Butler claimed that Paul commented on a possible development during an April 14 Planning Board meeting based on how it could affect the advertisements in her newspaper.

Since Paul had previously ran ads for the Derry Medical Center prior to her involvement in the Planning Board, Butler said he thought that Paul should have "recused" herself during the conversation which related to the business.

After Butler voiced his concerns to the board, Paul rebutted in defense of the wrongdoing she was accused of.

"The fact is, that all of those people advertised with me prior to being a counselor, so that has nothing to do with now," Paul said. "I gotta say, I feel like I go above and beyond with checking on who and when I cannot comment on things and I'm sorry that this offends you Mr. Butler, but I don't know why you keep gunning for me."

Paul said that the Town Attorney had previously told her that as long as the advertisement is not a "continuous advertising source" then her involvement should not be an issue.

Since the advertisement in question advertised a number of years ago, Paul did not believe there was any issue according to what the Town Attorney had told her.

Although Paul did not feel she had to recuse herself during discussion for this instance, she said she has done so in the past during Planning Board meetings when there were presenters who were engaged in current advertising.

Butler responded saying he felt that Paul's history of running ads relating to the project was still an issue.

"Your comments based on the development can spur advertisement in your paper based on your decisions and based on your comments," Butler said. "Don't violate the town charter. These people have advertised to your paper and you should have recused yourself."

After continuing back and forth on the subject, Paul responded again.

"Whatever Jim," Paul said. "You have your opinion and I have mine so unless you're pressing anything on me or if you have anything you wanna put against me...then otherwise shut up."

After previously saying that he did not want to press Paul for his allegations, Butler then said that he changed his mind and would like this situation investigated.

Paul said that she did not care if Butler investigated the situation because she does not believe there was any wrongdoing.

"Alright, do it," Paul said. "I don't care. I know I didn't do anything wrong."

Chairman John Farrell interrupted Paul and Butler as they continued on with opposing views and directed the meeting toward Vice-Chairman Joe Green and Councilor Tom Dolan to decide what the rest of the board wanted to do in order to move forward with the controversy.

The three of them discussed the possibility of reaching out to the Town Attorney to get an outside opinion on if any conflict of interest took place.

"We as an organization should not pick a path that will result in wiffledust," One Councilor said. "We need to pick a path that has an end point or solution."

Farrell, Green, and Dolan reached the conclusion that contacting the Town Attorney will be the "most fair solution for both parties."

Farrell will be reaching out to the attorney and will report back to the board with more information to move forward with.

I think we need to take the politics out of this. Both letters said they want to emphasize the ideals of Martin Luther King and I agree. Systemic bias is not about individuals and the desire for equal treatment is not about fairness not conflict. As a line from the Department of Education proposal refers to this statement by the scholar Ibram X. Kendi. "[a]n antiracist idea is any idea that suggests the racial groups are equals in all their apparent differences—that there is nothing right or wrong with any racial group. Antiracist ideas argue that racist policies are the cause of racial inequities."

Londonderry School Board Chair Responds To Rumors

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

During the last few Londonderry School Board meetings one of the things that has been discussed is COVID-19 grants from the federal government.

That led to some people in the community to think that the money was related to the school district changing the curriculum.

During the May 4 Londonderry School Board meeting Mike Saucier, Chairman of the School Board addressed the rumors about the district changing its curriculum.

"While it is not the practice of the School Board to respond to rumors or social media chatter – based on the number of people who have reached out to the Board with concerns I felt it necessary in this case to issue a statement to be sure that the public has the correct information," said Saucier.

Saucier explained that the COVID relief grant is a federal funding plan to help schools and districts recover from the challenges of the pandemic.

"This grant has nothing to do with school curriculum. There is a separate process for all of those discussions. Any discussions about changing our state's education curriculum would come with full public notice as well as input from both the NH Department of Education and from Commissioner Frank Edelblut," he said.

He explained that any discussions about changes to the curriculum across the state is happening at the state level.

"Any conversations or debates about 'CRT' are happening at the state level, in the New Hampshire legislature. We are monitoring those discussions and pieces of legislation such as HB 544. Those debates are not a part of the work being done by Londonderry School Board. Those are questions best directed to our state lawmakers and to Commissioner Edelblut," Saucier said.

Saucier said that the COVID grant has nothing to do with CRT.

"To be as clear as possible – the Covid grant money has nothing to do with CRT and the School Board is not considering, discussing, or debating anything to do with CRT. Anyone sharing information that says otherwise is misinformed," he said.

Following the debunking of the rumor the board also had a public hearing in regards to the Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief Fund II grant that the district received totalling $696,335. The grant is a part of the federal COVID-19 grants.

"The Board supports moving forward with this COVID relief grant. We believe it will help us offset the expenses and financial losses our district and our taxpayers have all suffered since the early months of 2020," Saucier said.

"The purpose of this funding is to provide direct money to LEAs to assist in safely reopening schools, measuring and effectively addressing significant learning loss, and taking other actions to respond to the impact of COVID-19 on educators, students, and families. Funding should allow the Londonderry School District to prepare, prevent and respond to the COVID-19 pandemic. This funding cannot be used as revenue to offset the tax rate, or spent on any items/services previously budgeted."

Some of the areas they are considering using the funds for includes summer academy, after and before school tutoring, HVAC equipment and controllers, boilers & furnaces which provide heat for ventilation systems, air cleaners, and emergency generators.

The Board accepted the COVID-19 grant during the meeting.

pening, and was told that the ages range from mid to late teens and also up to their mid-20s.

Councilor Tom Dolan asked if this was associated with some sort mixed martial arts type of fighting of just street fighting.

Gandia replied jokingly, "The first thing about Fight Club is we don't talk about Fight Club."

He added that there are referees regulating the fights and there are boxing gloves being used and they have their own "rules of conduct."

He also explained that the activity has been going on over the past four weeks and are mostly done on the weekend.

Councilor Deb Paul asked whether or not they were breaking the law and could be arrested for public fighting. Gandia explained that it's considered "Mutual Combat" and they could cite them, but they usually just give offenders a warning.

The council was unanimous in their vote to adopt the resolution.

Lancer Baseball Team Sandwiches Defeat with Two Wins

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Varsity Baseball squad suffered its second loss of the season when the split decisions with the Nashua North Titans, but the bounced back with a win against Exeter High School.

In the team's first game last week, held at Lancer Park on Monday, May 10, LHS shutout the Titans 4-0 and upped their season record to 10-1 behind five strong innings from pitcher Zach Smith and two from Ryan Killelea.

Smith got the win, striking out eight and walking one with just four hits, and Killelea added four K's and two hitless innings in the win. The Lancer offense had a total of seven hits for the four-run victory.

Owen MacDonnell

led the Lancers at the plate with two hits, including a double.

Gavin Parent and Zach Smith also each had doubles.

MacDonnell was the first Lancer to cross the plate after his double in the second inning. He reached third on a wild pitch and was driven in by an Adam Wholley groundout.

That was all the offense the team needed, but added another run in the fifth inning and two in the sixth.

It was quite a different story three days later, when the two teams faced off again, this time in Nashua.

The Lancers got behind early and were never able to recover, losing 11-1 to the Titans, giving up 11 hits and 11 runs and putting their season record at 11-2.

The usually sure-handed starting pitcher

MacDonnell only lasted three innings, giving up three earned runs and four unearned on six hits.

Wholley and Sam DiCicco were the relief pitchers and gave up four additional runs in the remaining three innings.

Wholley drove in the only run of the game for the LHS squad, he singled in the fifth inning, driving in Parent who had reached with a single and two out.

On Saturday, May 15, got back to winning with a home game against Exeter High School after they dealt the Blue Hawks a 5-1 loss and got their season record to 11-2.

Smith pitched six innings for the win, giving up four hits, striking out nine and walking just one.

Zac Rheault got the scoring started in the first inning with a single to drive in Brandon Fish who had singled with one out to get on base.

Exeter tied the game 1-1 in the top of the third, but LHS quickly corrected that with another run in the bottom of the inning.

This time, Fish drove in the runner on a single to right field. Jack Marshall got the go-ahead run after he got on base and advanced to second with a steal.

The Lancers got three more runs in the fifth to add to their lead and secure the victory.

The team has two weeks left to the regular season and will face Pinkerton, who has a very similar record, in the last week before playoffs.

The Londonderry High School Varsity Softball team went 3-1 last week and now sit at 9-4 with two weeks left in the spring season.

In that four game stretch, the Lady Lancers outscored their three opponents by a stagger 53-9 runs, most of those runs coming in their two games against Nashua North.

The Londonderry squad started the week with their first game against the Lady Titans in Nashua and walked away with a 21-run shutout victory.

Sophomore pitcher Lauren Laudani got the start and the win, throwing three hitless innings, striking out three and walking just one.

Mya Gaspie closed out the game pitching two, with a hit and a strike out.

There were two home runs in the game, one off the bat of Liana Sawyer and the other by freshman Olivia Cutuli.

Sawyer and Sarah Frazier had triples in the one-sided contest while Gaspie, Makenna True, Nina Covino and Olivia Chau each added double.

The Lady Lancers had a total of 18 hits in the shutout win.

Two days later, the LHS girls suffered their fourth loss of the season in a tight 3-2 extra-inning game at home against Bishop Guertin, who the Lancers had beat 11-1 to start the season.

Cutuli was the losing pitcher in the eight-inning game, she struck out nine, walked four and gave up seven hits.

The Lancers struck out 10 times in the loss and had seven hits.

The Lady Cardinals got on the board early, with a run in the first, and that lead lasted until the bottom of the fourth, when LHS tied the game with a single by Emily Rivera to drive in a run.

The teams both got runs in the sixth to keep things knotted at 2-2, until in the eighth, the Lady Cards went ahead with an unanswered run for the 3-2 win.

The following day, the Lancers hosted the Titans for their third game of the week and handed Nashua another crushing defeat.

In the 24-1 win, the Lady Lancers scored an amazing 16-runs in the bottom of the second inning and were supported with tough pitching from three girls in five innings.

Ali Lacey, Cutuli and Nina Covino led the team with RBI's, each getting four. Gaspie and Madisyn Bickford each had three hits on offense.

Homeruns went to Lacey, Chau and Cutuli and Gaspie, Bickford, Chau and Covino all had double.

Then on Saturday, May 15, the LHS squad added to the win column with another tight contest, this time against the Exeter Lady Blue Hawks.

The Lancers ended the week with a 6-5 win with Laudani, Gaspie and Cutuli combining in the circle for the one-run victory.

Cutuli hit another dinger and Lacey got another double in this game, while True and Lacey led the tem in hits with three each.

Lady Lancer junior Liana Sawyer hit a homerun in the 21-0 shutout against the Titans.

Do Your Perennials Need Help?

Now that spring is finally here, you may have notice that many perennials in the garden are in need of help. If you would like to give your perennials a fresh start this year, please contact The Green team of Londonderry on Facebook or call 537-2760. Will schedule a time, at your convenience, to divide those perennials that need a little help this spring. We will then take the surplus plants to be potted and prepared for our first annual Plant Sale on Saturday, June 5. Please call early to schedule a dig in your garden before the Team's plant quota is reached. Some plants may be restricted. Proceeds from these donated plants support the Team's many projects and its conservation, beautification and education endeavors. The Green team of Londonderry is a civic organization. For more information, please visit us on our Facebook page.

OBITUARY

Jeffrey G. Fournier

Jeffrey G. Fournier, 65, of Londonderry, NH, passed away Monday, April 12, 2021 in his home. Jeff was born on Nov. 6, 1955 at Maine Medical Center in Portland, Maine. Jeff would later work there during high school as an orderly. Jeff was the son of George and Marguerite "Peggy" (Perron) Fournier. He grew up in Westbrook, Maine with his four siblings. During many summers, he and his family would spend vacation time at Sebago Lake.

He attended St. Mary's grammar school and Westbrook Jr High. He graduated from Westbrook High School in 1974 where he was President of the Student Council, and a member of the varsity baseball and swim teams.

He graduated from the University of Maine in 1978 with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science and Sociology. While at Maine, he did an internship in Washington, D.C. for Maine Senator William Hathaway. Jeff maintained his interest in politics, human rights, and racial inequality his entire life. He made Londonderry, NH his home with his wife, Joyce, in 1991.

Following his college graduation, Jeff held various retail management positions including 15 years as District Manager at Bed Bath & Beyond and most recently as a Logistics Manager for UPS. From an early age, Jeff developed a conscientious & very strong work ethic.

Jeff was an avid bicyclist, hiker and physical fitness enthusiast. He loved golf and particularly enjoyed the rounds of golf he would play with his Dad.

Jeff and his wife Joyce shared some incredible traveling adventures including a trip to South Africa in 2012 where they went on several safaris at Kruger National Park. In 2016, they travelled to Tahiti and Tikehau. They also enjoyed numerous trips to their timeshare in Aruba. However, he was most content simply lying on one of the Maine or New Hampshire beaches.

His siblings were most appreciative that he and Joyce took his Dad, in celebration of his 75th birthday, to Paris and Coulmer, France where they visited the church where his paternal ancestral family members were baptized and married and the cemetery where they were buried.

Jeff's extended family of siblings and their children and grandchildren would celebrate an annual family reunion in Maine, New Hampshire, or North Carolina every year. Jeff was a very loving and thoughtful uncle who remembered his nieces and nephews every Christmas and the special events of their lives.

Jeff loved his family very much and they will miss him immensely. He loved his two cats who miss him terribly.

He is survived by his loving wife of 20 years, Joyce (Gillette) Fournier of Londonderry; his stepson Garry Gilbert, Jr. of Concord, NH, and step grandson Jonathan Gilbert; two brothers, Michael (Monica) Fournier of Warrington, PA. and Gary (Susan) Fournier of Moultonborough, NH; two sisters Charlene (David) Belanger of Bedford, NH and Cynthia Key of Brooklyn Park, MD, as well as several nieces and nephews.

A walk-through wake with masks, social distancing and limited interaction with the family will be held on June 17, from 4 - 5:30 p.m. in the Peabody Funeral Homes & Crematorium, 290 Mammoth Rd., Londonderry. A funeral service will follow at 5:30 p.m. in the funeral home.
