Committee Prepares for This Year's Budget Season

PAUL CONYERS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Budget Committee met on Sept. 22 and discussed several quickly approaching events, notably the upcoming start of the annual budget process. "We're approaching budget season, I believe it's November when some of the meetings start," said Committee Chair, Steve Breault, referring to the annual budget process. "It's basically from November to the beginning of February."

The Committee is waiting to hear back from the School District as no formal dates for

School Board Approves Hiring Curro as Consultant

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

During the Tuesday, Sept. 20, School Board meeting, members were asked to hire the recently retired Business Administrator, Peter Curro, as a consultant for the school district.

The proposed contract would be a way to get advice on different areas that Curro was responsible for while employed by the district. It was specifically explained in an outline to the School Board that Curro would consult directly with the current Business Administrator, Lisa McKenney, and Interim Superintendent, Dan Black.

The contract would be for $90 an hour and the district would pay each month for billable hours.

Black said during the meeting that he brought the idea forward during a non public session during the spring.

"The reasons for that have not changed," said Black.

One of the reasons Black pointed to is that they have numerous administrators doing two jobs. He also noted they have multiple administrators who have recently started with the school district including a food services director who is in their first year and a buildings and grounds director in their second year.

Black stated they wanted to be able to "tab" into the institutional knowledge of Curro.

"A consultant contract is a pretty standard thing for us," said Black.

Black pointed out that they are currently without an assistant superintendent, which can help pay for the consultant fees.

School Board member, Bob Slater, said orig-

Task Force Looks at Full Day Kindergarten in Town

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Kindergarten Committee had a presentation at the Sept. 20 School Board meeting for a full day kindergarten.

Interim Superintendent, Dan Black, said the possibility of a full day kindergarten is something they have been exploring for a few years.

During the presentation, one of the items pointed out was that over 90 percent of the students across the state have access to full day kindergarten. There were only six districts, including Londonderry, that have half day kindergarten currently.

Black explained the topic of kindergarten is something that has been pushed for the past four or five years ever since the governor was told by businesses that they wanted to see full day kindergarten before bringing businesses to the granite state. Since then, school districts have been rapidly implementing full day kindergarten.

Another thing pointed out by Black was that one of the things all day kindergarten would help with is to accomplish the goal of matching the learning standards to international standards.

"We're trying to make sure our kids are ready for a globally competitive world," said Black.

Barbara Curro, a teacher at Moose Hill and a member of the Kindergarten Task Force Committee, said that

NHDOT Outlines Exit 4A/Old Rum Trail Project Design

LONDONDERRY TIMES

The New Hampshire Department of Transportation (NHDOT) held an extensive informational meeting for the planned Exit 4A project recently, on Sept. 22, after having to reschedule earlier in the summer due to extreme heat.

The project will cover the area along the Londonderry/Derry town line, proceeding east of Derry's Pinkerton Street. It will also reconstruct parts of the Old Rum Trail, Folsom Road, and Tsienneto Road, before ending near the intersection of Tsienneto Road and Pinkerton Street. The project was in the planning stage for several decades before the start of construction.

"The purpose and need of the project are to reduce congestion, improve safety, and reduce the traffic on local roads while providing economic vitality for Derry and Londonderry," explained Gene McCarthy, manager of the project consulting team in Concord. Improvements to the area will include three new bridges, a coordinated signal system designed to minimize traffic jams, and stormwater treatment for runoff.

The project is subdivided into three sections, with the section on Folsom Road labeled as ongoing. Construction on the first project has already started. The final segment will be completed by 2026, although the completion of other sections varies between 2023 and 2025.

Several questions have come up about the project regarding the rail trail following the roads. "We've heard concerns about the grade of this new proposed path, about the curvature and that it was too tight, there are safety concerns...and the cost," McCarthy said. An alternative design, "It's actually wider than the rest of the sidewalks along Folsom Road, so that will accommodate pedestrians and bicyclists." The trail will have lower grades and will be ADA-compliant.

The construction cost estimate has changed several times as the project plan has been modified. Removing a tunnel from the original rail trail design saved over $1 million, although inflation has also been a factor in 2022. While the current cost estimate is $29 million for the second section of the project, McCarthy warned that it "gets updated several times between now and when we go to construction." Federal grants will cover 80% of the entire project, with the remaining 20% covered by the state of New Hampshire. Noting that there have been a few redesigns and changing cost estimates, State Representative, Katherine Prudhomme O'Brien, asked NHDOT officials, "If you can go over the design-build procurement process." She felt the alternative rail trail design looked "convoluted" and "unnecessarily winding".

"What happens is the design teams decide they're going to come up with a better way to design something or something more efficient," NHDOT Project Manager, Wendy Johnson, said after opening the meeting to questions. "The alternative technical concept still meets the same requirements, is still safe for the public, and saves money."

Johnson assured members of the public that NHDOT reads all public feedback, pointing to the new rail trail design as an example. Members of the public are encouraged to continue sending comments and concerns to the project team, although Johnson asked people to refrain from sending the same comment multiple times.

Parents Get Information Night on ALICE in Our Schools

On Thursday night, Sept. 22, the Londonderry School District's Interim Superintendent Dan Black, Emergency Operations and Procedures Committee (EOP), and School Resource Officers came together to share a joint presentation for families on the ALICE Emergency Response System.

The District shifted to the ALICE model this summer to best prepare and empower the staff to participate in their own survival and that of the students in the event of a Violent Critical Incident.

Families learned more about ALICE, an acronym for Alert, Lockdown, Inform, Counter, and Evacuate, and they expressed their appreciation to hear that almost 800 school employees have been ALICE trained throughout 10 sessions led by SROs this summer; there will be another training this fall, and future plans include training new staff when they are hired. Conversations about ALICE and drills will continue to happen in every building throughout the year.

The presentation also cited the collection of resources from the website Navigate360, which also provides parent resources and additional modules for further trainings for groups like coaches, bus drivers, and special education staff. The presentation also explained the evolution of the District's safety plans over the past 10 years and the work EOP, Londonderry Police, and Londonderry Fire collaborated on to keep our students and staff safe.

The night concluded with public comments and a Q & A session. A video of the event can be found on the Londonderry School District's YouTube channel at: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=eddDDLc6p>

Interim Superintendent Dan Black shares, "I am really proud of our EOP Committee and SROs for what they put together to share ALICE

Zoning Board Approves Quentin Drive Fitness Center

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

A special exception request for a home occupation business for whole body/mind training fitness center was discussed at the Sept. 21 Zoning Board of Adjustment meeting.

The application was from Chris and Karalyn Von Pichl and their property is located at 6 Quentin Drive.

Von Pichl said she wanted a stress relief and started a studio inside their home during covid.

"I have worked in fitness for 30 years," said Pichl.

Pichl explained she has a few clients that wanted to continue with her. Sometimes she has one on one sessions and other times there are a couple of people training.

"I'm not looking to open up something gigantic in the house," said Pichl.

Pichl stated they would be using 225 square feet downstairs in their 2,300 living space home.

"It's one room down in our finished basement," said Pichl.

It was pointed out that they weren't looking to have any employees or to renovate at all.

One question raised was in regards to parking.

Pichl said they have a long driveway and have a two car garage and would be able to accommodate the parking they would need.

"At a max I could maybe do four people," said Pichl.

Pichl explained she would usually have closer to only person training at a time normally.

"I don't like to see that many because you lose the one on one option," said Pichl.

Pichl said they wouldn't have a sign there for the in-home business.

Pichl stated they wouldn't need to do any construction to their home in order to accommodate the building. She ultimately wants to be able to keep the clients she has now.

Multiple abutters wrote letters in support of their proposed application. No one wrote letters against the proposal or spoke against it during the meeting.

The hours for the business that were proposed are Monday thru Friday from 5 a.m. to 10 a.m. and on Saturdays from 5 a.m. to 8 a.m.

The Zoning Board of Adjustment ultimately approved the application.

The next Zoning Board of Adjustment meeting is slated for Oct. 19 at 7 p.m.

Budget

Continued from page 1 budget meetings are on the town schedule. The budget season typically starts with a meeting on the first Saturday of November. Members expect the first three weeks of December to be particularly busy.

Londonderry's Community Service Grant is now active, and committee members were unsure why several applicants from last year, including the YMCA, Red Cross, and the Sunshine Soup Kitchen have not applied for the grant in 2022. Committee members pledged to follow up. Grant applications are open until Oct. 3.

The Budget Committee will go over grant applications in their next meeting. Members will also discuss how to distribute funds to every applicant.

Committee members also gave feedback on plans for the Capital Improvement Plan following a tour of the schools. Much of the feedback focused on immediate funding concerns highlighted in the Project overview, especially at Londonderry High School.

"How long is that wooden section of the High School going to last?" asked member, Tim Siekmann. Generally, everybody agreed with the Capital Improvement report on what should be immediately prioritized for the schools. There was some debate over several other schools in the district, especially South Elementary School

"I think what they're doing, repairing sections of the older schools, is okay right now, I know that obviously, they need additions and replacements," said Vice Chair, Jennifer Kenney. "Maybe they [the engineers] should provide pictures," she added, hoping to see more concrete evidence of some damage that the Committee did not see on their school tours.

The Budget Committee will meet with the Planning Board on Oct. 12 to discuss recommendations for the Capital Improvement Plan while comparing their priorities to the priorities of the School Board. Regardless of what comes from the discussion, it was clear that no budget items for even the highest priority items on the Improvement Plan are likely to come up for a vote anytime soon.

"It's at least three years, that's the fastest you're going to see anything on the ballot to do it right," Siekmann said. "It's not going to happen as fast as people want it to, the process is tied into too many things."

The Department of Public Works came in under budget for 2022, in part due to employee turnover and some retirements. Director of Public Works, Dave Wholley, stated that Public Works needs a budget increase of 50% on vehicle maintenance and a 40% increase in the salt budget to keep roads clear next winter.

The next meeting of the Budget Committee is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 27, at 7 p.m.

See You at the Library

As Libraries get back into grove and we head into next year's budget, lets make sure our libraries stay healthy. The reason is simple: Patrons want more open hours at the library.

More residents are using the public library for many different reasons. While at a casual glance the action of adding money to our libraries could be interpreted as ignoring the economic hardship taxpayers face. In reality, a more accurate response is that as times get tough and money gets tight, residents are using their libraries more and more, which is a good thing. If there is a little extra money, we should think of giving it to the library, the place that only gives back to the residents.

Just as we don't believe newspapers will disappear, we don't think books will either. As the cost of books increase and bookstores close, libraries become even more vital. Reading a good book can bring a lot of satisfaction, something that's hard to duplicate.

We've heard people question the usefulness of a library in recent years or a book in today's digital age. We think they're totally off base. Libraries aren't stuck in the 19th century; they have audio books for the commuter, or downloadable books for e-readers and computers. Technology plays a major role in their offerings these days, meeting the needs of both the tech-savvy and those who want to hold a book in their hands.

Think back, how many of us introduced our children to a love of reading when they were toddlers, sitting with them at library story time sessions, then, heading home with lots of picture books? That book is comfort, when snuggling at bedtime to bond or escaping the stress of the day is better with a book than a device.

These days, most of us can't afford to spend money on entertainment. The numerous free programs offered at our public libraries ranging from movies to lectures and art shows give us options to get out of the house, spend time with others, and maybe learn something in the process. Often with a snack thrown in.

When hometown entertainment just won't do, most libraries offer free or reduced admission passes to museums in both NH and Massachusetts.

Remember where people gather when the power goes out in winter storms? At the library. Kind of a definition of "community," isn't it?

We'd hate to see any of this go away. A library is one place where we do get our money's worth. What we're finding is that, as money gets tight, we turn to our local library more and more. Pay one a visit today.

Full Day Kindergarten

To the editor,

After watching the full-day kindergarten presentation during the school board meeting, a few things concerned me:

Full-day Kindergarten is used as a way to help increase enrollment in schools that have declining enrollment. Students are leaving the district because of the district's poor choices. It's about numbers to justify increasing budgets. There isn't any concrete evidence that this is necessary and/or will provide any return on investment to the taxpayers whatsoever.

Will kids at the end of kindergarten be further ahead than those who go half day? That's certainly possible. But they all catch up in 1st grade. Our kids have 18+ years to be in school all day. Let them be kids and not have to struggle because our district chooses to not use their time wisely.

One of the pitches for it, was so that kids dont fall behind on speech and language development. Where was this concern during covid? My son was recieving speech therapy in school, with him and his OT, both in a mask.

Where was the social-development concern when our kids were eating alone in cubicles made of gym mats, when returning from sick leave? Another pitch, was because other towns are doing it. That is not a reason for us to do something that will increase our taxes even more.

I have a continued issue with the school board creating committees without publicly asking for community members to apply to. Instead, they are hand-picked by whoever is running it, and the opposition is not properly represented. Instead, we get very biased and skewed presentations. Present BOTH sides.

They are saying they dont have enough time to teach the basics of math or english, yet we are spending 30+ minutes a day, on the very controversial subject of SEL. I do not need schools teaching my kids how to react to "social norms," or "equity." I need the schools teaching my kids actual academics.

I urge every tax-payer to look beyond the very "rehearsed" presentations, and plan-ned/planted questions from board members, so it fits the narrative. Do your own research beyond these meetings.

Supporting Kristine

To the editor,

I am writing in support of Kristine Perez for State Representative for Londonderry in the upcoming 2022 election. I met Kristine this summer while considering candidates for state and national offices. I was impressed at her candid discussions with me and her excitement to be able to represent Londonderry residents in Concord. She has been open and honest with her reasons for running and is active in the town, which is important in my opinion. I was most impressed with her pledge to be transparent and listen to us and what we need as Londonderry residents. Honesty is one of the most important character traits needed (and lacking) in politics today. With nursing being the profession that leads in the US as the highest ranked for honesty and ethics, and Kristine's 42 year career in nursing, I think her background is enough of a favorable indication that she is the type of candidate we can all get

Kindergarten Program

To the editor,
On Sept. 20, the school board heard a presentation from the kindergarten committee that gathered research around full day kindergarten. The committee is comprised of Londonderry kindergarten teachers, several community members, (some of whom teach kindergarten in other districts), and our Moose Hill Principal and Interim Superintendent.

It might be surprising to learn that Londonderry is one of six towns in the entire state of NH that does not offer full day kindergarten through the school district. This is particularly poignant given that NH was the 50th state to embrace public kindergarten.

In our half day program, students receive 2.75 hours per day of schooling. When we contrast this with a full day program at 6.75 hours, it essentially means our youngest learners are receiving 77 school days during their most formative years (not 180 days).

It also means that some of our students do not master the prerequisite skills needed for higher level learning as they transition into elementary school. A full day program provides students with more play time, more math, more reading, an opportunity for lunch and recess and access to a unified arts curriculum. Full day kindergarten can mean students enter first grade with more skills that set them on the path to being strong, confident learners. As the school board heard, quite simply, full day kindergarten is the right thing for our children.

The committee continues to look for community feedback! Please watch the presentation on our YouTube channel (9/20 meeting, starts about 16 minutes in) and provide feedback via our website!

Thank you for engaging on this important topic for Londonderry!

Amy Finamore

Candidate Thank You

To the editor,
I want to thank the citizens of Londonderry for your vote in the Sept. 13th primary.

I have always been honored to continue to serve the Londonderry community starting with my 21 years as a town councilor and now continuing as a state representative in Concord.

I am a dedicated state representative that if re-elected in November for another term I will demonstrate a strong presence at the state house for the citizens of Londonderry. I will continue this accomplishment by asking the important questions to guide my decision making, work collaboratively with other Londonderry state representatives through good listening of their ideas and share my business and engineering knowledge as the Chair of Municipal and County Government.

I want all the Londonderry voters to know that I am dedicated to representing Londonderry as a state representative and hope to continue seeing NH grow as the best state for all its citizens to live in and raise a family. Thank you for your confidence and your upcoming vote in November.

Sincerely,

Time for Some Conflict Resolution

To the editor,
First full disclosure, I am Jim Green and I am running as a Democratic candidate for State Representative from Londonderry. That said I think that nearly everyone is tired of the constant bickering in our legislature. My campaign business card quotes Ruth Bader Ginsburg “Fight for the things you care about, but do it in a way that will lead others to join you”

I think to do that we need to take some lessons from the field of conflict management. The goal here is at worst a compromise but preferably a win-win situation, where both sides come out satisfied. Too often we are more concerned about winning than solving the problem.

management science tell us to do. First, we need to focus on the problem we are trying to solve rather than the personalities involved. We need to understand the place where the other person's position makes perfect sense. A willingness to really listen to each other is critical. Roger Fisher and William Ury, two researchers associated with the Harvard Negotiation Project, have developed principles for win-win negotiations. We need to separate the people/parties from the problem. We need to understand the reasons/interests behind each other's position in order to develop alternative solutions to the problem. The key is to clearly articulate the problem we are trying to solve. (we don't have what I want to do is not a problem definition.) The problem is one that can be stated with clear operational results and ways to measure it's effectiveness) The goal is to move from two competing alternatives to generating as many alternatives as possible, particularly those which would meet, or most nearly meet the interest of both parties. I am not so naive as to think this would always work, but I do believe that it is worth the time to try to find solutions that result in a win-win situation. I think we are currently in a situation where nothing gets done, or one side "wins" but we end up with a poorer result because the answer does not solve all the issues involved.

School Board Gets Update on District-Wide Hiring

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

At the Sept. 20 School Board meeting, one of the agenda items was in regards to the school district's staff openings.

Interim Superintendent, Dan Black, explained they have been able to hire people for most of the openings they had. Over the summer they hired over 40 teachers.

"We did the best we could in a challenging situation," said Black.

The only teacher position they weren't able to find someone for was a part time french teacher, but said they found a teacher who agreed to teach an extra class and they are also allocating the funds from the position to purchase a certified online course.

It was pointed out during the meeting that when they put out a call to the community in hopes of getting more workers even for limited hours, the community responded. They currently only have 14 openings for support staff.

Director of Pupil Services, Kim Carpinone, said they are actually better staffed now than they were before the pandemic in some areas. She also noted they were anticipating more hirings soon.

Carpinone told the School Board that compared to other school districts they are also doing well when it comes to openings.

"Londonderry is in a very, very, very good position," said Carpinone.

Carpinone stated that in some cases other school districts are only at 75 or 80% of the support staff that they need.

Also during the meeting, the School Board had a request from Londonderry High School Principal, Jason Parent, to approve the overnight field trip requests for the school year.

Parent explained that as part of their extra curricular activities some of the organizations including music and athletics have overnight field trips.

He explained they have the appropriate amount of chaperones for each of the trips and also noted the students either fundraise or pay the out of pocket cost for the trip meaning that the district doesn't have to pay.

"Financially there's no cost to the Londonderry taxpayer," said Parent.

The School Board ultimately unanimously approved the overnight field trip requests.

Black also noted he began to visit with third year teachers within the district as part of the commitment he made to meet with all teachers who are in their first, second, and third year of teaching.

The next School Board meeting is slated for Oct. 4 at 7 p.m.

inally the proposal was for him to be an actual employee.

"The Board decided that we would prefer to have Peter as a consultant not working for the district," said Slater.

"This is a 85 million dollar business, to ask one person to handle all the finances is a little much," said Slater.

Slater also pointed out that they were at somewhat of a disadvantage because Curro ultimately ran all the departments.

McKenney said they didn't have so many positions changing in the same year they probably wouldn't need any outside help.

"We have so many new people in the positions," said McKenney.

Slater explained he wants the services to be used more as a last resort and they can also rely on the institutional knowledge within the school district and from people in similar school districts.

Slater said he didn't want to see a significant amount of hours being used each month.

"I don't want to see 30, 40, 50 hours a month," said Slater.

Slater noted that 5 to 10 hours a month would be more appropriate.

The School Board unanimously approved the contract.

Lancers Football Secure Mack Plaque Win Over Astros

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Football team secured their spot as the top team in the Division I Central standing at the Mack Plaque game against Pinkerton Academy on Friday night with a 31-6 victory.

The win handed the Astros their first loss of the 2022 season and their sixth consecutive defeat in as many tries against the Lancers going back to 2019.

The win also notched one-point in the Mack Plaques standings, with PA leading 3-1.

Londonderry got off to a very quick start, on the opening kick-off, heading into an extremely hard wind, senior Anthony Amaro found an opening down the far-sideline and sprinted to a 92-yard return, fellow senior, Jack Drabik, added the extra point, for a 7-0 lead just 17-seconds into the contest.

Drew Heenan

The Astros were not able to score on their opening drive, despite good field position, due to the hard wind.

The Lancers next possession ended with short punt, putting PA at the LHS 45-yard line, but PA failed to take advantage due to the tough Londonderry defense.

The Astros ended

that drive with a fourth and seven attempt, resulted in a turn over on downs.

The following LHS possession resulted in another short punt and an interference penalty putting PA in Lancer territory.

In that PA drive, the LHS defense helped their team's cause with a fumble recovery after a high snap by the PA center on second down.

The Lancer offense then went to work pounding the ball down the field through the end of the first quarter, and finishing that drive with a Drabik 36-yard field goal at 9:09 in the second.

Another strong defensive stand by the Lancers resulted in a PA punt that actually went backwards due to the heavy winds, putting LHS inside the 20-yard line.

One play into that drive resulted in a Lancer TD. Quarterback, Drew Heenan, through a pass to an open Jake Schena in the end-zone to help end the half 17-0.

PA was finally able to get on the board to start the scoring in the third quarter.

Senior Cole Yennaco had a six-yard touchdown run, one play after a long pass from QB Tim Hersom to Caden Michaud to start the second half.

It turned out those were the only points LHS would give up in the game. Londonderry got their third touchdown when senior Andrew Soucy ran in for nine-yards at 1:40 in the third.

Lancer Volleyball Squad Stays Perfect with Mack Plaque Win

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Girls Volleyball team is off to their best start in a long time, winning eight straight matches to start the 2022 season.

Last week, the Lancers defeated Manchester Memorial, Windham and Pinkerton Academy and only dropped one of ten sets during the three-game stretch.

Londonderry improved to 6-0 with their win over the Crusaders (0-6) on Monday night, Sept. 19.

The Lancers had a pretty quick stay at Manchester Memorial, keeping the Crusaders in single digits in all but one game, winning sets 25-8, 25-11 and 25-4.

Leaders for the Lancers were: Shannon Ball with five kills and four digs; Sydney Rankin had 12 aces and five assists; Lacey Turner got four kills; Madi Saucier managed four aces; and Lexi Small finished with five assists.

The following night, LHS played host to the Windham Jaguars (2-3), taking that match 3-1. The Londonderry squad was able to win 25-21, 25-18, 20-25 and 25-16 over a very good Windham team.

Leaders for the Lancers were: Ally McGonagle with 15 kills, six aces and seven digs; with the Mack Plaque home win.

Pinkerton was able to battle back a bit in the third set, but fell in three straight, 25-18, 25-13 and 25-16.

Lancer leaders in the game were: Small with 20 assist and 10 digs; Elguezabal with five aces, six digs and two kills; Liv DeFazio with six kills, two digs; Turner had five kills and seven digs; and Ball finished with eight digs and two aces.

The team is now tied with Nashua North at the top of the division with their outstanding 8-0 record. They will face the Titans in the first week of October.

Lancer Field Hockey Strikes Twice for Mack Plaque Victory

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Field Hockey team had two exceptional wins last week, one to start the week against Manchester Central and the other to finish the week in the team's Mack Plaque contest with Pinkerton Academy.

The Lancers started the week on Tuesday, Sept. 20, hosting Manchester Central-West, where they outscored that opponent 3-1.

The Londonderry scoring didn't begin until the second half when Ashleigh Leone scored at 13:15 in the third with an assist by Ava Windisch.

Four minutes later, Keira Strike scored the game winner with an assist coming from Meghan Daileanes.

In the fourth period, Daileanes added an insurance goal.

Lancer keeper Kathryn Martin had six saves in the game.

The following day, in Nashua, against a tough Bishop Guertin team, the team dropped a 5-1 outcome to the Cardinals.

The only LHS goal in the game was scored by Strike with an assist from Windisch at 13:09 in the third period.

Martin had her hand-ful in goal making nine saves on 14 shots by BG.

In the 2-1 victory over Pinkerton on Saturday morning, the LHS squad got off to a slow start, but once they captured the lead, the defense held on for the win.

Pinkerton's only goal of the game was scored on a penalty corner by Jaelyn Crossman in the first quarter at 7:33.

Two minutes later the Lancers tied the game when Keira Strike got behind the PA goalie and was fed a pass from Daileanes at 5:37.

The two girls paired up for the eventual game winner in front of the goal at 2:41 in the first.

Londonderry played a strong defense throughout the remainder of the game, especially in the third quarter when they kept PA scoreless on nine corner attempts.

Martin made four big saves on the Lancer side and Elise LeBlanc had three saves in the PA net.

The two wins and a loss put the LHS season record at 5-6 with five games left to the regular season.

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Coming off a disappointing 4-0 loss to the Exeter High School Blue Hawks on Monday, Sept. 19, the Londonderry High School Girls' Soccer team suffered another tough defeat during the annual Mack Plaque contest against Pinkerton Academy on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 24.

The 3-2 loss allowed Pinkerton Academy to gain a 4-3 advantage in the Mack Plaque games heading into the boys' soccer match, which ended in a 1-1 tie.

The Londonderry squad headed into the Mack Plaque game with a season record of 4-3, so a win would not only be big for a match against their rivals, but would also put the team two games above the .500 mark.

In that game, held in Londonderry under very windy conditions due to a passing hurricane off the coast, the Lady Lancers began with an early one-goal advantage, but by half-time, Pinkerton was able to knot the battle at 1-1.

In the second half, the Pinkerton squad was able to score two more times to Londonderry's one goal and held on for the one-goal victory.

Londonderry had nine shots attempted on the Pinkerton net.

The team was scheduled to play two games this week at home. One against Alvirne High School (5-4) on Tuesday evening and other on Thursday night, Sept. 29, against the Nashua North Titans (1-8) starting at 6 p.m.

Lancers Boys Soccer Team Settle for Mack Plaque Tie

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Boys Soccer team came back to force overtime in their Mack Plaque game against Pinkerton Academy on Saturday, but in the end, they had to settle for a 1-1 tie.

The Lancers, who are now 3-3-2 this season, had to overcome a one goal deficit in the Mack Plaque contest on a very windy Saturday afternoon when PA scored the first goal of the game on a rebound during a penalty kick 13-minutes into the first half.

The one goal lead lasted until the 65:55 minute, when sophomore Brett McKinnon was able to find the back of the net on a ball from Cristian Levantovski-Correa.

Unfortunately for the Lancers, that's where the score stayed after two overtime periods and they settled for a tie in the contest.

Londonderry keepers Jason Reilly had five saves and three saves were made at the Pinkerton side.

Head coach, Todd Ellis, commented after the game, "The wind played a factor in this game and gave a real advantage to the team that had it at their backs. It was a physical tournament atmosphere type game as Mack Plaque always is. I am sure both teams felt they could of come away with a win today. Jason made a couple of great saves in the second half to keep them at one."

Earlier in the week, the Lancers came up one goal shy of a tie when they traveled to Exeter High School and lost a tight 2-1 game against the Blue Hawks.

Londonderry took the lead in the first half when Levantovski Correa scored 28-minutes in from Brady Joncas.

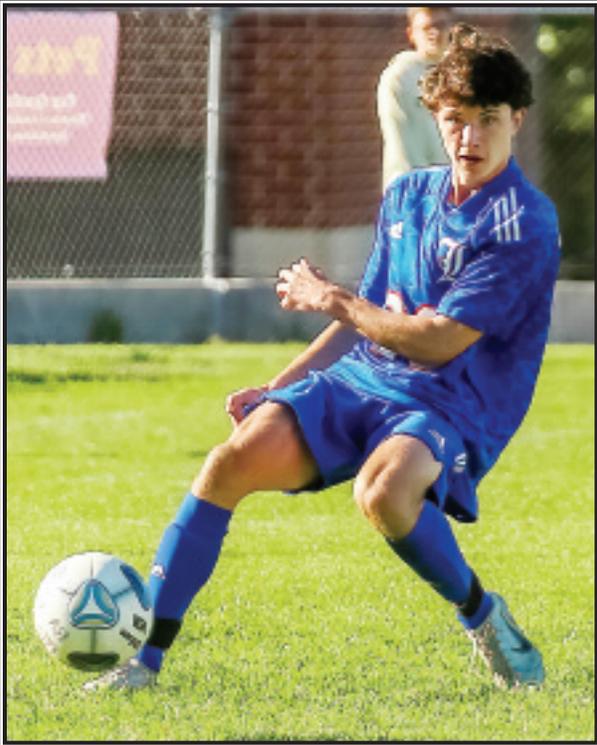

The lead was short-lived, with Exeter scoring two-minutes later.

The 1-1 tie lasted through much of the second half, but the Blue Hawks scored the game winner in the 64th minute.

Reilly finished with four saves in the contest.

Londonderry will play Alvirne and Nashua North this week as the try to notch another win as the season hits the halfway point.

LHS sophomore Brett McKinnon scored a late game goal to help keep his team in the game. Photo by Christine O'Loughlin Heenan gave the Lancers their fourth touchdown of the evening with pass completed to wide receiver Andrew Kullman for 44-yards and a lopsided victory.

Londonderry had 204 yards of offense in the game to PA's 133. More than half of the Lancers yards came in the air despite the strong winds.

Heenan was 7-12 in pass attempts with Kullman getting 47-yards on two receptions, Jake Schena got 20-yards on one catch and Matthew Carroll had 19-yard on one reception.

The 97-yards of rushing was spread out to a variety of runners with Schena leading the team with 40-yards on 11 attempts.

On defense, senior Nathan Padrick totaled seven tackles and junior Seth Doyon had four.

The Lancers will travel to Manchester Central on Friday night to take on the winless Little Green.
