School Board Updated on LHS Vocational Programs

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The School Board was updated by Superintendent, Dan Black, and High School Principal, Jason Parent, on potentially expanding vocational programs.

“Based on the last School Board meeting and the generous presentation from our local representatives, we agree that we should have an ongoing conversation with the School Board on the topic of expanding the vocational options for our students here in Londonderry until we have our bearings on exactly what we want to pursue,” Black wrote in a memo to the School Board.

Black said they recently met with the Commissioner of Education and Jim Beard, who oversees CTE at the NH Department of Education, to have a better understanding of the

No Trespass Order Against Gandias Rescinded by Town

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The couple that was served a Trespass Order by the town of Londonderry back in January has had that order rescinded, and they are now able to access public buildings in the town.

During the Monday night Town Council meeting, Laura and Chris Gandia were allowed to speak during public comment and shared their feelings on how they had been treated over the past several months.

Laura Gandia worked for the town as the Associate Planner for nearly a decade and had her position eliminated back in January during a restructuring plan established by Town Manager, Mike Malaguti.

Chris Gandia is a retired Londonderry Police Captain, who left the force last year after serving the town for over 25-years.

Laura Gandia’s statement from the meeting included her feeling on Malaguti’s plan.

She said, “The proposed reorganization plan was never really a reorganization plan, but rather a retaliatory measure.”

She asked the council how is this reorganization plan working. “There is no Town Planner, no Land Use Assistant, and no Associate Planner (AP) position. The Assistant Town Manager hired a land use assistant on Monday, and now as of Friday she is no longer working. The Town hired a consultant at over $100 per hour for plan review, a

Conservation Commission Green Lights Orchard Lease

PAUL CONYERS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Conservation Commission came together for its April 25 meeting to discuss new ideas.

Jeffrey Brem of the Meisner Brem Corporation was at the meeting to ask for a conditional use permit needed to move forward with the Winnie Estates proposal located at 20 and 22 Young Road. It is his third Conservation meeting for a plan to build a 21-lot project on 2-acres of land.

“It’s all the same issues as before,” explained Brem. “The issue we’re talking to you is about the driveway.”

He emphasized that no projects should impact the surrounding wetlands, but the debate over removing a driveway on the land has stalled approval. Brem hoped to get a revised plan through the Conservation Commission and the Planning Board after getting his permit.

“We’re going to remove the driveway, and restore wetlands in that area,” said Brem. “The Planning Board is meeting soon and we’re hoping to get your approval by then.”

Members were happy to accept Brem’s willingness to remove the driveway without much discussion. The Commission unanimously voted to recommend the permit to the Planning Board.

Also during the meeting, the Commission needed to approve a new lease for Moose Hill

Orchards after the Town Council moved forward at its April 24 meeting.

“At the end of December 2021, the town solicited interest in a lease for this parcel,” explained Town Manager, Mike Malaguti. “We indicated that we were looking for a lessee who would maintain it as an apple orchard and keep to other agricultural use of the property.”

That original lease expired last November service formerly provided by the AP at a significantly reduced cost. The Department is operating in violation of RSA 91-A and there has also been a decrease in service and responsiveness.

As to the No Trespass Order, she said, "Unconstitutional no trespass orders were issued by the Town Manager in furtherance of his retaliatory and oppressive measures. There have been no trespass orders issued in over 20 years, if ever, so why now, with no legitimate valid reason."

She added, "The ACLU viewed these trespass orders as extremely problematic and unconstitutional, contacted the town and informed it of its intent to send out a public letter detailing the town's abuses and the town immediately removed the trespass order even though we tried to reasonably and peacefully have them removed for months."

Gandia also said there will be additional litigation coming, "I now have several pending litigation matters against the town to include direct dealings, wrongful termination, and retaliation with additional federal lawsuits to be filed. So, I am here to let you know that I am extremely disappointed and saddened by these events."

She finished by saying, "What happened to me and to my husband is a travesty and an injustice. I will ensure that that all of the egregious actions of the town are brought to light. Our light will shine through the town's darkness."

Chris Gandia also commented on the reorganization plan and the No Trespass Order. Saying, "As you may know, Laura and I were finally able to get the unlawful criminal trespass orders removed once we retained the assistance of the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) after several requests to Town Manager, Malaguti, were denied. The ACLU attorneys contacted the town's attorney in response to Malaguti's egregious abuses. The ACLU warned that if this unlawful order was not rescinded, a public letter was about to be sent, outlining numerous details pertaining to violations of our civil rights."

He added, "Amazingly, within hours of this communication to Malaguti, the unlawful criminal trespass orders were withdrawn and our freedoms were restored. I was finally able to return items to the library that had been outstanding for almost 100-days and pay my late fines, due to the unlawful and reckless actions of Malaguti."

Later in the meeting, Malaguti made a brief statement about the Trespass Order saying,

"I made the decision I believed to be in the town's best interests, which is my primary and most important responsibility, when making any decision in my role as Town Manager."

He added, "I do not plan to elaborate on my reasoning any further. I acknowledge that people want to know more about this matter; it is not a question of me or not wanting to, or being afraid to address it. In fact, it would be easier if I could. However, there are some topics that are simply not appropriate for the Town Manager to discuss at a Town Council meeting."

Town Council Chairman, John Farrell, added, "This is not a Town Council matter and it is not something we are going to engage in."

landscape of vocational programs across the state.

It was explained by Black that two CTE centers where their students can attend, Manchester School of Technology and William Palmer CTE Center in Hudson.

On average 100 students from Londonderry attend per year in programs including Auto Tech, Collision Repair, Cosmetology, Culinary Arts, Electrical, Fire Science, Graphic Design and Gaming, Health Science, HVAC, Plumbing, and Natural Resources.

"We pay an average of $1,500 per student to attend, and the state offsets the cost. LHS also offers robust onsite programs in Woodworking, Metals, and Graphic Design," Black said.

One of the items discussed with the Commissioner was in regards to creating their own CTE center. Black explained in order to do so they would have to have a specialty that no one else offers and the pool of money to help fund the programs wouldn't get bigger meaning they would essentially have to divide the money more ways.

"That would probably take us a multi-year effort," Black said.

Black said they could look at becoming more robust for apprenticeships, saying it was recommended to look at trades and companies around the area to work on better preparing students for the workforce.

"There's a lot of good opportunities for our students," Parent said.

Parent said they also discussed the NH Career Academy where students who are interested in leaving during their senior and first year after graduating in the community college setting where they would be working certificates and towards their associate degree.

"The only drawback is we would be losing them as a student," Parent said.

Black said they are going to continue to explore different options and to make it a priority.

School Board Chair, Bob Slater, said he thought the apprenticeships and other proposals made sense and would also like to see more students become involved with CTE programs.

Safety First, With All The Celebrating

A driver's license mixed with a few drinks, texting, and pot is dangerous for anyone, but the reckless combination can be even more so for inexperienced drivers. Lets not do anything to risk on prom night that will leave empty chair at graduation. Even when parents trust his or her own teenager to be conscientious, being certain that other teenagers will do the same is impossible.

As graduation season approaches it's an exciting time for high-school students, dressing like celebrities going to prom along with many graduation parities getting ready to take the next big step in life. Drunk-driving fears of parents escalate and school activism against such activity increases. But, Imagine the utter despair of any family who sends a child off to such a happy event only to have him or her never return because of an accident, leaving relatives and friends devastated and school communities stunned.

Though teens will ultimately make the final decisions in terms of their own safety, it doesn't keep parents from waiting up at night. When it comes to teens and drunk driving, there is both good news and bad news.

The good news is that teen drunk driving nationwide has gone down. The bad news is that car crashes are the leading cause of death for teens, and about a third of those are alcohol related, according to Mothers Against Drunk Driving.

Not every child makes it home safe, and only some live to tell about it. We hope that students are talking not only about the dangers of drinking and driving, but also about texting and driving and the importance of wearing a seat belt.

Motor vehicle crashes are the leading cause of death among U.S. teens.

I am a firm believer that if we educate kids at a young age, we are going to be able to save their future.

If nothing else, when your child goes to prom or graduation parties, try to find a little comfort in the transportation arrangements.

Parents, be smart, be proactive, and have conversations constantly. It has to be in the forefront all the time, a priority.

The dangers of drinking and driving have heightened considerably due to cell phones. Study after study has shown an increase in accidents connected with texting while driving.

Explain your own position concerning your teen's drinking and texting while driving. Discuss your family's rules about alcohol and agree on the consequences for breaking the rules. Discuss reasons for NOT drinking and the bad consequences that can result from drinking.

Always tell you children that if they find themselves in an uncomfortable situation or they have made a poor decision about drinking or drugs that they can always call you and you will pick them up and bring them home. Mothers Against Drunk Driving offers a handbook on its website to help parents talk to their teens about alcohol.

More than ever, schools, parents, police and community members need to work together to make sure that no family has an "empty chair" after proms and graduations.

Clearing Up Misstatements

To the editor,

During the final portion of the May 15, Town Council meeting, Chairman John Farrell made a misleading statement about a "lawsuit" that was filed by my lawyer, Kevin Coyle, against the town of Londonderry.

It is not a lawsuit, it is a petition to have the superior court order the Town to release a document. It is the way the law works when a public entity does not comply with the 91-A right to know law.

We are requesting for one (1) public document that the town refuses to release to me.

The document was shown to me on my final day as a Town Councilor and pertains to a complaint filed by someone to the town on my use of the word "seduce."

According to my lawyer, Kevin Coyle, "We gave the town every opportunity to comply with 91-A requests and they chose to have us take the issue to superior court."

In Farrell's statement, he refers to many documents being requested in the lawsuit, that is simply not the case.

As to how much this will cost the town, it should have cost them nothing. In my opinion, it's a public document written against me and I have the right to have a copy of it.

For the record, I was allowed to read the document on my last day as a councilor, but was told I could NOT take a copy of what was written about me.

Not Enough Buses for All?

To the editor,

Why do Londonderry's taxpayers continue to pay for transportation for Hooksett School District students?

Earlier this year, the Londonderry School District ratified an agreement to continue our memorandum of understanding with Hooksett, to provide a place in our community for their children to get a quality education.

However, under the terms of the existing memorandum of understanding, set to expire on June 30 2023, Hooksett parents are supposed to be paying for any expenses not approved by the Hooksett School Board... to include transportation. Our agreement specifically authorizes us to bill Hooksett families for costs that, with respect to Hooksett parents, should not be paid by Londonderry's families. Don't we pay in enough of our tax revenue for our own children?

The current memorandum of understanding, ratified by LSD to be extended for another 5 years, clearly states that tuition costs paid to LSD are -not-intended to defray transportation costs, so it's not as if we have built this expense into their tuition.

The subject has been addressed multiple times with the Londonderry School Board, and only at the May 9 meeting of the Londonderry School Board did we get a straight and transparent answer; the Superintendent and School Board believe it to be fiscally advantageous to the District.

The problem I have is, while that money coming in for increased enrollment may pad the District Budget elsewhere, when you look at it from an accounting perspective, it does NOT directly offset the transportation expense incurred by our families.

It is worth noting further that we cannot even offer busing to all of our Londonderry students! There are many instances of the District in the 22-23 School year alone, having to combine buses to successfully transport students home because of an apparent shortage of drivers and buses in the afternoons. There are Londonderry parents who drive their children due to lack of follow up by the District on disciplinary issues that occur during student transport. And lastly, we cannot even offer access to busing for all of our student athletes. Certain sports in the District enjoy virtually guaranteed bus transportation, while less popular activities like track, force the parent to miss time from work to provide transportation to these activities.

Why are we paying to bus Hooksett students, when we aren't offering equal opportunity to bus the children in our own district? The District and School Board should be seeking the best interests of Londonderry's children first.

RE: School Athletics

To the editor,

I read Jim Loiselle's letter about Londonderry athletics with great interest as it exemplified why I have never been able to relate to US sports (or most modern European sports). This letter is not intended as a comment either way concerning what Jim is talking about but I just thought my experiences might interest readers regarding differences in times and countries. I should also say that the only sporting activities that ever appealed to me were cricket and cross-country running. I watched rugby but I only played a couple of times.

I grew up in England in the 1940s and 1950s. Sports was part of the curriculum and each class had one, three-hour session per week, when all students participated in some sort of sports activity. A few students played on a "team" once or twice a week after school if they were really enthusiastic but there was never any school wide participation, such as cheer leading or mass spectator activity. Even then they only played against another team from within the school. (The school was divided into four "houses" that competed in these matches.) What we were taught was intended to build team work and to help us handle those times when you do not "win". Games that ended in a tie were considered very good sporting events. It was never about winning per se and if any of us ever made comments similar to what is referred to as "bragging rights" in the US, we would have been strongly reprimanded by the teacher. It was considered very inappropriate to make comments like that to a team that had lost. You were expected to compliment them on those aspects of their play that had been good and encourage them for the next time.

Professional sport was an entirely different thing and drawn from enthusiastic individuals who played for town or county teams, initially as non-professionals until they got good enough to be selected for professional teams.

As I said, different times, different places and a different culture. I hope the students continue to enjoy their sports.

Free Speech

To the editor,

I am writing to express my concern about the growing trend of social silencing in our society. I believe that these practices are harmful to our democracy, our diversity, and our pursuit of truth.

Free speech is a fundamental right and value that allows us to voice our opinions, ask questions, and challenge ideas without fear of being shamed or shunned. It is also a vital tool for learning and understanding different perspectives and experiences. A society that values free speech can benefit from the full diversity of its people and their ideas.

However, free speech is under attack by both cancel culture and the divisive concept. Cancel culture/woke is a set of beliefs and attitudes that claim to promote social justice and equality and divisive concepts laws restrict what we can teach and learn about race, racism, American history, politics, sexual orientation, and gender identity.

Woke culture seeks to silence dissenting voices by labeling them as bigots, racists, sexists, or transphobes. Divisive concept laws claim that they are trying to prevent teachers from indoctrinating students with a false or negative view of America or making them feel guilty or uncomfortable because of their race or sex.

Both of these are detrimental to our success as a nation as they limit our ability to learn and adapt to the realities of the world today. Vigorously present your positions on all topics, but fight fair. Let the differences make you adjust and refine your arguments. Likewise, without discomfort and guilt, we would still be subject to a king, and have slavery, and women would still be the property of their husbands or fathers.

Free speech and critical thinking are essential to our future as a nation. Critical thinking will be the core of jobs that will survive in a world of artificial intelligence. We will need to harness the best talents of all of our people. Any "ism" that walls off or limits some of us in the talent competition hurts all of us. Critical thinking cannot flourish without free speech. Because free speech allows for the exchange of diverse and challenging views that can stimulate critical thinking and foster a culture of inquiry and learning. Discomfort can be a response to growth, a catalyst for growth, or a sign of growth.

Very respectfully,
Jim Green

Black Addresses Concerns Regarding GPS Devices

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The School Board got updated on issues regarding GPS in schools during their May 9 meeting. Something Superintendent, Dan Black, said they have been looking into it since January.

Black explained that the specific device they were looking into is “Angelsense.”

He explained that it wasn’t about the GPS and instead they were concerned about the fact that it had “active listening” built into its features and that it is more than a GPS device. It has “active listening” built into its features and “markets both 1 Way and 2 Way communication.”

“1 Way Communication means someone from outside of school could listen into a classroom when the device is inside our schools,” Black wrote in a memo ahead of the board meeting. “2 Way Communication means that someone could talk to someone outside of school with the device if it were in our buildings.”

It was explained by Black that the legal problems they ran into is that the listening devices could be listening in real time inside the classrooms without anyone’s consent, including the school district, staff, and parents of any students inside the classroom.

“Having a device capable of listening into our classrooms is a violation of NH and Federal Law and it is also morally and ethically wrong to not let other parents know you are potentially listening to their children,” Black said. “NH has very strict privacy laws and we have been working hard with our lawyers to navigate this issue for a few months.”

Black explained they saw a change from the company that markets Angelsense in the last month, which made them believe they could “move ahead in some capacity to support our parents and students that want to use this device.”

Black explained that School Board member, Amanda Butcher, was able to work on getting an updated version of the agreement from Angelsense, which allows the company to turn off the active listening features of the product during the school day and school year while the GPS functions still work.

Black said they were looking for consent from the School Board to have the new updated agreement reviewed by their lawyers and “have their input to hopefully move forward with any interested family that wants to use Angelsense.”

“I do not yet know at this time if this will require us to come up with a new policy around devices and/or active listening and privacy laws, but that could certainly be an outcome moving forward down the road,” Black wrote in a memo. “If we move forward as well, the purpose would be to map out a very tight and clear legal arrangement on these devices with our families. Part of that agreement is going to be a stipulation from my end that families engage in an honest, transparent, and supportive partnership with the School District.

Black said the School Board, administration, and legal team have spent a lot of time working with families “to move forward on this very tricky and hard to navigate situation.”

“We will expect an honest, transparent, and supportive partnership in return to make this work,” Black said.

The School Board

gave permission for the the policy reviewed by administration to have their legal counsel.

Londonderry Six-Year-Old Facing Leukemia Pedals for a Cure

LONDONDERRY TIMES

Zoey Bollhardt refuses to let anything stop her. Over a year since being diagnosed with acute lymphoblastic leukemia, the North School first grader still loves swimming and riding her bike whenever possible.

Zoey's mother, Dawn, talked about how staying active helped Zoey regain normalcy. "She loves to swim and ride her bike when she's feeling well," said Dawn. "Riding has helped her get her strength back."

Last year, six-year-old Zoey participated in the Greater Manchester Pan-Mass Challenge (PMC) Kids Ride to raise money for cancer research with her cousin and 15 other children.

She is excited to get back on a bike, coming back to PMC for another year, hoping to raise more money than ever before for Boston's Dana-Farber Cancer Institute, the treatment center responsible for helping Zoey.

PMC describes their youth rides as "a way to include young cyclists in the Pan-Mass Challenge, with its mission of raising money for cancer research and treatment at the Dana-Farber." The Kids Rides Program was started by PMC in 2005 and is open to children between 2 and 15. It raised $326,000 in 2022 and has raised more than $10 million in total.

As an organization,

PMC started in 1980 and has been described as the world's most successful athletic fundraiser.

Zoey also participates in PMC's Pedal Partner Program where pediatric patients are paired with PMC riders to greet, thank and cheer on adult riders. The Program also hosts a party where children can meet their riders.

While Zoey is "doing well" according to Dawn, treatment often leaves her daughter exhausted. "Every day is challenging, eating well, and staying hydrated over the course of the treatment."

Zoey hasn't been alone in her fundraising efforts. In 2022, North School's student council walked down the Londonderry Rail Trail to raise money for the Jimmy Fund, an organization dedicated to supporting Dana-Farber.

Students also had a wear pink day, where students wore pink and purple (Zoey's favorite colors) to show their support, and a dollar day, where everybody collected dollars to donate to pediatric cancer research.

The pair first learned about PMC visiting Dana-Farber's Boston campus. Zoey was eager to turn her love of bike riding into a way to help others like her, and both mother and daughter have been active in fundraising ever since.

"I feel strongly about raising money for pediatric causes," Dawn explained. "When this started, I was surprised to find there are not a lot of fundraisers for childhood cancer, and I hope to change that."

Dawn is proud of her daughter's determination, even with the often-tiring treatment.

"Zoey is a fierce, courageous warrior, and I am lucky to be her mom," said Dawn. "We are thankful to the Jimmy Fund and Dana-Farber for all their help."

The 2023 Greater Manchester PMC Kids Rides will be on Sunday, June 4, 2023, at Saint Anselm College in Manchester from 8:45 a.m. to noon.

Planning Board Give OK to Young Road Development

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Planning Board gave conditional approval for a subdivision and site plan for 20 and 22 Young Road during the May 10 meeting.

During the meeting, Jeffrey Brem, who was representing the applicant, said they were looking to build 21 three-bedroom units on a total of 25.4-acre property. He added that they were looking to have 17.83 acres of open space on the property as well.

One of the main issues discussed by the board and the public was in regards to traffic.

Brem said they were looking for waivers from the traffic regulations, citing that because of the low amount of traffic on Young Road currently, there would automatically be a large spike for the average daily trips and the amount of time people could wait at intersections.

"The percentage increases on Young Road are actually driven by the low no-build volumes on Young Road," Brem told the Planning Board in the waiver application. "TEPP LLC calculates single-digit peak-hour increases to movements at the Nashua Road/Young Road/Old Nashua Road intersection due to the project. Calculations shows increases of less than one percent on Nashua Road and Old Nashua Road. TEPP LLC therefore anticipates no actual significant area traffic impact due to the project."

One of the abutters who spoke against the plan was Stephen Young, who said his family originally settled in Londonderry in the 1750s and said they live in a historical home on Young Road that was built in 1902.

"We're here for the long run," Young said.

He said he is ultimately concerned about the increase that would come from the amount of traffic from the development and about people taking a left at the intersection. Young also stated that he had spoken to the fire chief who allegedly had similar concerns.

According to Assistant Town Manager, Kellie Caron, they didn't receive any comments during design review from the fire department.

Barbara Young also spoke during the meeting saying it would make it more difficult for ambulances and the fire department to respond to calls with the additional traffic. She added that she is concerned about the entryway being on Young Road, instead of 102 directly.

Sarah Clark, an abutter for the property, also expressed concerns she had about the traffic. She said one of the concerns was she felt the correct data wasn't presented because most people would likely be taking a left onto 102 instead of a right.

She noted most of the traffic going to the right would be people commuting to Nashua or Hudson, which is what the traffic study was based on. Instead, she felt the study should be based on people taking a left instead.

Aaron Orso, the owner of Cedar Crest Development, said they are trying to build single-family homes that are all inclusive noting he spoke with all the neighbors in the Copperfield estates and said they added a lot of buffer for it saying, like them, he didn't want the homes in the backyard.

"I want to be able to sell homes," Orso said.

The Planning Board approved the waivers along with granting conditional approval.

back), some Bills were "Tabled" on the House floor (set aside with the possibility of being voted on later), some Bills were "Inexpedient to Legislate" (lack of consensus on their value or need). Then, there are bills that are "Ought to Pass". These are the bills that move on to the Senate for review and possible Governor signature.

As a House, we are often more united than divided. One example of this would be that we voted 356 to 6 to keep NH the First in the Nation Primary.

Bills and their status can be followed on: <https://gencourt.state.nh.us> as well as CitizensCourt.org/Bills.

Coming up in June 2023, we must pass a Budget for the State of NH. The House, Senate and Governor then will have to come to an agreement on the final budget.

We are going to have another Meet and Greet before the summer kicks into high gear. We will be at the Londonderry Library on June 13 from 6 - 7:30 p.m. This is an infor-

HIS Shadow, Part II

To the editor,
Yes, every year a Ground Hog does emerge from their hole in Ground. However, unlike some in the Cult, who once joined, live their lives forever-more in the ground. As far as number of Press conferences, I for one say so what? I would judge someone on their actions vs. words any day. Especially, as we all know, in someone's case were all Lies anyway. Perhaps some believe that tweeting and playing golf was working?

I see some still believe all the LIES spewed by Right Wing brainwashing propaganda media. So, let's take them from the top (once again).

Inflation - Most knowledgeable people understand this was largely created by the Pandemic

Supply chain issues. That is why you see Inflation up all over the world.

Interest rates- Again, those with knowledge understand that raising interest rates slows inflation. Also, those who have been getting 0% on their hard earned (taxed) money are (should be) receiving a nice big BONUS every month! So, a big thank you to President Biden!

Afghanistan debacle- I thought we had covered this in enough detail already (some may still have had their heads firmly in the ground)? The Horrible Betrayal Deal with the Taliban was done by the Orange criminal Traitor on Feb. 29, 2020. The big problem with this deal is it allowed 5,000 terrorist prisoners to be set free and Trusting that the Taliban would not shoot as us. The Final withdrawal date was May 2, 2021. By the time President Biden took control, the Taliban had already overrun Afghanistan and were in Full control. Also, we were not even close to being fully out. No equipment had been moved, thousands of Soldiers were still there and all the Afghan people who wished to leave, their Visa applications were HELD up by the former republicans. So, all in all President Biden did a FANTASTIC JOB handling this Mess.

Energy Independence- Shocked that some are so ignorant to still believe that Whopper LIE. But if only they knew how to use the internet, they could see that Domestic Oil production has exceeded 12 Million barrels per day. That's more than anytime during the previous administration. Also, most understand that it was the Saudi's, who cut their Oil production by Half, which was the real reason gas prices remain higher.

Lost respect- I could tell you just whom it is who has lost ALL respect, but it is not President Biden. A Newsweek headline says it all: The World Respects us again, thanks to Joe Biden!

We hope all the Ground Hogs will no longer fear the light (truth and facts) and venture out of their holes in the ground. We will keep a watchful eye out for their Shadows!

when the Town Council and land owner disagreed on whether to renew by signing a short or long-term agreement. There was also disagreement over the public access to the land. Under the April 24 agreement, Sunnycrest Farms will oversee the front five acres of the orchard for five years. A separate lease for the back 21 acres of the land needed approval by the Conservation Commission.

"We're negotiating a term of 20 years, nominal rent of $1, the entitlement of term to the lessee, and an obligation to maintain the apple trees," said Malaguti, outlining terms of a new lease for the back-end of Moose Hill Orchard with Sunnycrest.

Alternative member, Michael Speltz, considered the agreement with Sunnycrest a "low-risk" deal needed to preserve the town's heritage. The parcel lease was approved unanimously.

Commission Chair, Marge Badois, recently had a conversation with a wolf expert who raised the issue of wolf conservation in NH.

"We have wolves in the state, but they're being shot because people are confusing them with coyotes," said Badois. She invited the expert to do a public presentation on the topic, and the Commission raised the possibility of making the presentation a joint venture with Leach Library. Badois promised to look into scheduling with both sides.

The next Conservation Commission meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, May 23, at 7:30 p.m., in the Moose Hill Conference Room.

Win Streak Jumps Up to Six for Lancer Softball Squad

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Varsity Softball squad hasn't lost a game in the month of May and they upped their season record to 9-4 with two more victories last week.

The Lady Lancer started their week by beating the Purple Panthers in Nashua 13-3 then finished with a close 4-3 win over the Spaulding Red Raiders at home.

In the Nashua game, on Monday, May 8, LHS had 12 batters come to the plate in the first inning and started the contest with an eight-run lead.

Junior lefty hitter, Olivia Cutuli, set the tone from the number one spot in the lineup with a home run to left. Following that, the Lancers laced seven singles for another seven runs.

Londonderry tacked on two more in the third and three in the sixth inning for the lopsided victory.

Pitchers Mya Gaspie, Abby Austin, and Nina Covino combined efforts in the circle and Austin registered the win.

The three girls had 11 strikeouts and gave up just one walk and eight hits. Junior shortstop, Zoey Nelson, had three singles in five at bats and sophomore Sara Daniels was three for four with two RBIs.

Freshman Virginia Flaherty and senior Makena True both had doubles in the game.

On Friday afternoon, at home against a tough Spaulding High School team, that had only two losses coming into the game, LHS got off to a four-run lead before giving up three for the win.

Cutuli was unhittable for most of the game, sitting down the first 13-batters and taking a no-hitter into the fifth inning.

The Lancers took a 2-0 lead in the second inning after a walk, a single, and a sac fly.

In the third, True singled to score Corvino, who had reached on an error.

The Lancers scored on what turned out to be the game winner in the fourth after two more Red Raiders errors.

fifth win of the season, striking out 16 Red Raider batters, walking just two, and giving up six hits in the final three innings.

The Lancer lineup needed just four hits for their four runs, striking out six times, and walking four times.

The victory marked the Lancers fifth win in May and their sixth straight win.

This week the team will travel to Portsmouth on Tuesday, May 16, to take on the 5-6 Clippers and on Wednesday, they will play the Merrimack Tomahawks (6-6) at home for a game under the lights starting at 7 p.m.

Nine Game Winning Streak Put Lancers Baseball Squad in First

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Varsity Baseball team added three more wins last week and now sit in the top spot of the Division I standings with just two weeks left in the regular season.

Last week's three victories gave the Lancers a nine-game win streak, putting their record at 13-1.

The team's week started at home against

School, on Monday, May 8, where they out hit the Purple Panthers 11 to 5 and beat them by the same amount.

Senior pitcher, Mike Crowley, notched himself another win, with five innings on the mound, striking out nine batters, walking three, with four hits.

The LHS team accrued 9-0 lead by the fourth inning, then they gave up all five runs in the fifth, before shutting down Nashua in the final two frames.

Liam Stott, Owen Carey, and Jayden Hamilton all had two hits in the game. Stott, Carey, and Joe Cafaro all hit doubles in the win.

Three days later in another game at Lancer Park, Kevin Rourke got his fourth win of the season with an outstanding two-hit, 14-strikeout performance against the Salem Blue Devils.

Rourke was on the mound the entire seven innings and didn't allow a single walk in the 6-0 shutout.

Lancers Boys' Lax End Week with a Win and a Loss

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Boys' Varsity Lacrosse team had a strong win over Nashua North last week, but also fell to Pinkerton Academy for the second time in a week's time.

After staying tied with the Astros through four quarters and two overtime periods a week earlier, the Lancers were unable to keep pace with PA on Wednesday, May 10, and fell 13-2 at home.

The Londonderry defense kept the Astros from scoring for the entire first quarter, but early in the second, Pinkerton broke through and continued to rack up the points.

The only goals by the Lancers came in the fourth quarter and both were by senior Nathan Pedrick.

The following day, at Nashua North High School, the Lancers managed a lopsided win of their own, beating the Titan 18-3.

Pedrick once again led the team in scoring with five goals on 10-shots.

Senior Aidan Huard also had 10-shots on the Nashua net, scoring three times.

Fellow seniors Ben Padykula and Brandon Robbins also finished with three goals, with Padykula tacking on one assist.

Other goals came from: Sophomore, Liam Knight (2); junior, Sam Melia (1); sophomore, Parker Lewis (1); and senior, Liam Chicks (1).

The Lancers will have three games heading into the final week of the regular season. They faced Portsmouth at home on Monday and will play Memorial-Central and Exeter on the road to finish the week.

Boys' Tennis Get Their Second Win

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Boys' Tennis team had its second win of the season last week and though it didn't seem that impressive to average fans, it's a big accomplishment from the coaching staff's perspective.

The team heads into its final week of the season after four matches last week ending with a 7-2 win over Spaulding High School.

According to Head

Coach, Roberta Davis, "The boys have finally made the connection about competing physically and they're all playing well."

The Lancers had two 7-2 losses to start the week, one against Pinkerton and one to Keene, but then had a close 5-4 finish against Manchester Memorial before finally getting their second win.

In the victory over the Red Raiders, LHS won all, but one of the singles matches with Aidan Board getting 8-4 win; Connor Lord had an 8-3 win; Jayden Wu and Devon Pacheco each had 8-2 wins; and Brady Follansbee beat his competitor 8-0.

In Doubles, the team of Lord and Evan Fortin had an 8-5 win and Follansbee/Pacheco won 8-1.

Coach, Alex Burbine, is optimistic about the team's long-term progress, saying, "Last season was focused on having fun, building a passion for the game, and getting the guys experience. This season has been focused on individual competition and successes. We're trying to win as a team simultaneously, and focus will continue to shift to that heading into next season, but right now we are focused on each of the guys growing competitively and getting experience winning and we are seeing tons of successes across the lineup as we get deeper into the season. The guys should be proud of their progress. We're very excited for next season and beyond."
